

Lord Home Backs Plan For Arms Summit Talks

Warns Directives Must be Drafted in Advance to Give Value to Sessions

BY TOM HOGUE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Lord Home gave guarded approval today to the Soviet Union's proposal for an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament before June 30.

Home warned, however, in a speech before the U.N. General Assembly that a number of clear directives would have to be drafted in advance if such a meeting is to have any value.

Key points that should be agreed upon, he said, are non-dissemination of information about the making and use of nuclear weapons, stationing of observers to guard against surprise attack and progress toward abolition of nuclear delivery vehicles.

"My government will gladly join in any preliminary discussions which in turn could lead to such a meeting as Mr. Gromyko (Soviet Foreign Minister, Andrei Gromyko) described, and give it a better chance of showing results," Home said.

He blamed the "deep schism in ideology between the Communist world and the rest" for the comparative failure of the United Nations Organization to develop collective security. "In the long run the only sure guarantor of peace,"

Quoted Khrushchev

"Now there is a sign which may herald a new chapter of cooperation between the Soviet Union and the West which could in its turn aid in any increased U.S.-Soviet have a most profound influence on the conduct, usefulness and efficiency of the United Nations,"

Home noted with satisfaction that Soviet Premier Khrushchev administration is considering the possibility of selling wheat to the Soviet Union, a transaction some feel could be the first step in freer American-Soviet trade relations.

Senate Approval Needed

The proposed treaty would enable each of the two countries to open consulates in cities outside each other's capital.

Algerian Troops Start to Join Rebel Colonel

ALGIERS (AP)—Units of the Algerian army today began joining the dissident troops of rebellious Col. Mohand Ou El Hadj. The colonel called for a decisive fight against President Ahmed Ben Bella's government.

A government officer in Tizi, capital of the Kabylie which is the nerve center of the revolt, said most of the men in the area have deserted. Informants in Tizi Ouzou said all was quiet in the city and virtually all troops disappeared from the streets.

Plans for New Greatness

LABOR PARTY Looks to Wide Gains in Science

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP)—Harold Wilson today unveiled the Labor Party's master plan for making Britain great again by exploiting the world-wide revolution in science.

In a keynote speech to the annual conference of the opposition party, the Socialist leader outlined a program designed to be his main vote catcher in the 1964 national election.

Wilson called for a vast increase in Britain's scientific manpower; the massive application of science to industry; diversion of the country's research resources from defense to more productive fields, and a partnership between the state and private enterprise in pioneering new industries based on scientific discoveries and in expanding the national economy.

The program made no mention of foreign policy, which will be outlined later in the conference.

A prolonged standing ovation by 2,000 delegates greeted Wilson at the end of his 50 minute speech. It was one of his biggest personal triumphs since he assumed the party leadership early this year.

There was one jarring note, however, when Frank Cousins, veteran general secretary of the giant Transport and General Workers Union, warned the leadership that workers will not stand for being thrown out of jobs by technological change.

Cousins said the experience of workers in the United States showed that advanced technological processes had created an uncontrolled employment situation.

House Forwards Military Pay Bill To Chief Executive

Quick Signature Expected; Increase Effective Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House sped to President Kennedy today for expected prompt approval to day a bill to raise military pay an estimated $1.2 billion a year.

The compromise measure passed the Senate last week. Its effective date is today. The raises, largest in history, would average 14.4 per cent and range up to $120 monthly. Even so, government officials said that thousands of low-ranking personnel probably would continue to seek charity or outside jobs.

The basic pay of recruits, for example, would go up only $5 a month to a new scale of $105 monthly. Counting subsistence and living quarters allowances, many of them would still end up with annual incomes of about $2,400 a year.

Most of the increases would go to officers and enlisted personnel in the middle pay grades—those at points in their careers at which they face decisions on whether to continue in the military life.

Compromise Bill

The bill is a compromise between earlier measures passed by the House and Senate. It would bring raises as high as $120 a month for majors, lieutenant commanders, senior sergeants and chief petty officers.

Other increases include: captains and Navy lieutenants, $115 a month; sergeant majors and equivalent ranks, $55; corporals and their equivalent ranks, $35. The recruits, privates, corporals and sergeants, and corresponding Navy ranks, with more than two years service would get boosts ranging from 15 to $40.

In addition, men in combat areas like South Viet Nam would receive an extra $55 a month and servicemen who must leave their dependents at home would receive $30 a month more.

First Since 1958

The increase would be the first in basic military pay since 1958. Reservists and National Guardsmen would get a similar boost.

Byrd Upheld In Position on Tax Reduction

Committee's Vote Appears to Bar Cut This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration lost in its first efforts today to speed up action on the $11 billion tax cut, and a top Senate leader conceded there may be no tax cut until next year.

President Kennedy told Democratic congressional leaders at a breakfast meeting that he wants action this year on civil rights and a tax reduction.

And Senate and House leaders told newsmen as they left there was no valid reason why both bills couldn't be passed. They pledged to make every effort to do so.

Byrd Backed

However, shortly after the congressional leaders left the White House, the Senate Finance Committee, by an 11-4 margin, voted to uphold the right of its chairman, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., to set the time for Senate action.

The committee rejected a motion by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., to hurry up committee action so the bill would be ready for the Senate about Nov. 1.

Byrd has said he plans at least six weeks of hearings on the complex tax measure.

Without the proposed $11 billion tax cut, he said, the economy cannot meet the demand for jobs posed by an exploding population.

Without enactment of the civil rights bill, he said, the nation will diminish morally.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana echoed the speaker's sentiments. He said there is no intention to pass either the tax bill or the civil rights bill alone but to pass both before the congressional session ends.

McCormack and Mansfield, flanked by other Senate and House leaders, were seen leaving the Capitol building today.

Council Puts Key Document Up for Debate

Redefinition of Church Wins in First Vatican Test

BY BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Ecumenical Council approved for final debate today a key document to define anew the nature of the Roman Catholic Church in a modern world.

It is the schema, topic "de ecclesia" ("about the church"). It received overwhelming endorsement in a revised, more simplified form demanded by progressive prelates. They said that in simpler form "de ecclesia" would help further Christian unity.

Criticizing the form of the schema as it was presented at the first meeting of the Ecumenical Council last year, these prelates said it must be recast in more pastoral terms.

Details Not Given

The schema deals with the manner in which the Roman Catholic Church operates. Details are secret. However it is known the House and Senate. It would expand the role of Bishops in sharing the Pope's authority.

A council press office communique said 2,231 prelates voted for the schema, 43 voted against it, 3 voted for it "but with reservations," and 24 ballots were declared void because they were improperly marked. The required majority of the 2,301 fathers present and voting was 1,151.

Only a majority was required to put the schema before the council for discussion.

Final Decisions Later

A two-thirds majority will be required for a final vote in plenary session, perhaps before the council's phase ends Dec. 4 or more likely in a session next year.

The vote at the council working session in St. Peter's Basilica gave the green light for detailed discussion of the schema, which examines anew the structure of the Roman Catholic Church and the rights and duties of the Pope, Bishops, priests and laymen.

The importance of today's vote was that the council decided to go ahead with the schema, which had been revised from an original Ouozou, capital of the Berber area text strongly criticized at the council's first session last December.

Today's vote ended the general discussion.

Hurricane Flora Worst of Season, Forecaster Says

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Flora, labeled the most dangerous hurricane of the season, raged in the Caribbean with top winds of 110 miles an hour today. Emergency supplies were being sent to her first victim, the Robinson Crusoe island of Tobago.

Damage to Tobago and her 40,000 residents, just off the coast of Venezuela, probably ran very high, the weather bureau said. Communications were cut and one of the few reports to get out simply said damage was extensive.

"This is by far the most dangerous storm of the season, tightly knit and concentrated," said forecaster Gilbert Clark of the National Hurricane Center at Miami. "It is going to have to hit land somewhere before it can get out of the Caribbean."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Valachi swore today that Vito Genovese, his old boss in a crime syndicate, has "lots of interests" in legalized gambling in Las Vegas, Nev.

He said he understood that Genovese has "a tie" with the gambling operations of Myer Lansky in Las Vegas.

Genovese, convicted on a narcotics charge, is now in the Leavenworth federal prison. Valachi, a witness who, he said, met untimely deaths while Genovese was awaiting a murder trial. He mentioned the murder of associates on the outside.

Oriental Flavor Spices Riverview Party Saturday

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Seaborne and Mrs. Ben R. Schneider, Orientals for a day, chatted during Riverview's Saturday evening party. Parasols and silk and satin gowns, some decorated with a fire-breathing dragon, added the proper touch of authenticity. Below, before the club fireplace, are Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Schomisch, all committee members.

Riverview Country Club became the "Tea House of the September Moon" Saturday evening as members gathered for their festive fall party. The affair began with a 6:30 p.m. cocktail hour. Dinner was served at 7:30 p.m. and an evening of dancing and gaiety got underway at 9 p.m.

Decorations for the party included colorful parasols, fans and lanterns. Committee members dressed in keeping with the theme, donning mandarin coats, coolie robes and hats, kimonos, and temporary Oriental brows and lashes. Those who really got into the spirit of the event adopted oriental mannerisms for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Schomisch were party chairmen.

Locate Dummy Entries

Years of playing in national championships have taught Mrs. Margaret Alcorn the importance of finding and using entries to a weak dummy. She can pass on to her pupils in Sacramento a hand that helped her win the Mixed Pair Championship last month in the All-Western tournament in San Francisco.

East took the ace of spades and returned the jack of clubs. Mrs. Alcorn won with the ace of clubs and wondered how she could get

Couple Is Married In Fall Rite

The Rev. R. H. Keller officiated at the 10 a.m. double ring ceremony Saturday uniting in marriage Miss Mary Jan Wankey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wankey, 805 W. Brewster St., and Harold Wolfram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolfram, 1409 W. Wisconsin Ave. St. Pius Catholic Church was the setting for the wedding.

Bridal attendants were Miss Jan Schultz, maid of honor, with Miss Barbara Wankey, the bride's sister, and Miss Betty Eggert as bridesmaids. Miss Pamela Wolfram, the bridegroom's niece, was the junior bridesmaid.

The bridegroom was served by his brother, James Wolfram, as best man. Richard Wankey, brother of the bride, and Thomas Kottke were groomsmen. Ushering duties were fulfilled by John Pfeiffer and Charles Kunitz.

Lamers Tea Room, Little Chute was the setting for the bridal dinner. A reception was held later at 41 Bowl.

The couple was graduated from Appleton High School. Mrs. Wolfram is employed at the H. C. Prange Co. Her husband is with Bonded Collectors, Inc.

to dummy three times. The ace of diamonds was the only obvious entry.

Declarer's first step was to lead the king of spades and ruff it in dummy. This allowed her to return a trump for finesse with the queen.

The next step was to lead a diamond to dummy's ace. This allowed her to return another trump for a finesse with the jack.

Works on Clubs

Still another entry to dummy was needed for a lead toward the queen of diamonds. Mrs. Alcorn therefore went to work on the clubs.

Without drawing East's last trump, declarer cashed the king of clubs and led the nine of clubs to East's ten. East couldn't return a spade because dummy still had a trump to stop the suit. (This was, of course, Mrs. Alcorn's reason for leaving the king of trumps in East's hand.)

When East returned his last trump, South won and led the trump. South won and led the four of clubs to dummy's eight. This put her in position to lead a diamond through East's king. It was lucky that East had both red kings, but Mrs. Alcorn took advantage of the good luck by leading from the dummy often enough to make the vulnerable game.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S 6, H 9 8 6 2, D A 8 7 3, C 8 6 5 2. What do you say?

Answer: Pass. Your hand is worth only 4 points at spades since the spade singleton is a liability, not an asset.

Your Problems Lingerie Shop Provides Cure For What God Has Forgotten

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I enjoyed the letter from the flat-chested school teacher who "filled in with cotton what God had forgotten." It was an amusing letter and seemed to make sense when I read it, but now I'm not so sure.

I'm a fairly attractive 18-year-old girl — another one of those whom "God has forgotten." I have been tempted many times to go to a lingerie store and buy myself an improved figure, but one thing holds me back. What effect would such deception have on a husband when he learned he had been tricked? Would he feel cheated and hold this trickery against his wife? I hope my letter doesn't sound too stupid to print. I really would like an answer. — Ready for Stuffing

Dear Ready: No real man would attach any importance to this whole cotton pickin' issue. Go to the lingerie shop, Honey, and take care of what God has forgotten.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What can I do about a 46-year-old wife who thinks she's a teen-ager? Our 17-year-old daughter is a sensible, popular gal whose friends, both boys and girls, enjoy congregating in our rumpus room. We are not objecting — in fact, we're happy to have them here, but I do believe that my wife should not hang around (wearing Capri pants and a low-cut blouse) the entire evening and behave like one of the kids.

My wife is an excellent dancer and is up on all the latest, but our daughter tells me she finds it embarrassing when her mother does the mashed potato and the horse, the rabbit, the monkey and the rest of those foolish dances.

My wife insists she is really chaperoning the kids without letting them know it. I would like your views on this. Thank you. — Twinkle Toes' Husband.

Dear Husband: Chaperoning my eye. Your wife is reliving her girlhood and giving that 17-year-old a run for her money.

Parents should be at home when their teenagers entertain but they should not plunk themselves in the middle of the group and try to be one of them.

Mothers who are young in appearance, and lively booters as well, should make every effort to cut down the voltage in the presence of their daughters' boy friends. Often without realizing it, they are competing with their daughters and this spells deep trouble.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been married for 30 years to a sists he has never been drunk in his life. How about this? — Aggravated Edna

Dear Aggravated: Your husband is full of hops. Beer contains alcohol and a person can get knee-walking drunk on three bottles or less — depending on his threshold of tolerance.

Beer drunks are especially difficult to help because they usually deny that they are alcoholics. And there is no help for a person who refuses to admit that drinking is a problem.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Creeping Weight

As many a trim lovely has discovered it is possible to follow a sensible eating pattern for years and then—boom—begin to gain weight. Why should this be, if you've lived by the rules? The most likely answer is the gradual development of an imbalance in one's energy output and calorie intake. Unless the two strike a nice balance, there's bound to be a gain or a drop in weight. We all know that, or should, in this diet-conscious age. The point we miss is that the balance does not remain static. It changes with a change in our activity. If you move about less now than you once did, you need fewer calories to sustain your energy. And your weight will increase unless you decrease your calorie allotment.

Never fear, the cut need not be painful. Barring a huge gain, it can be accomplished in ways that are scarcely noticeable. For example, Be more than ever sparing of sauces, gravies and butter used to dress foods. Become aware of the calories in the dishes you taste while in preparation. Treat cocktail canapes and between-meal tidbits as samplers, not as repasts.

By such ploys you can lower a count by several hundred calories a day. Every thousand saved is a pound saved. It's easy! Of course, it just might be that an increase in your physical activity would be easier. Give the idea a whirl!

Don't Bleach Pressed Wood

Can you lighten pressed wood or hard board by bleaching? The chemical makeup of pressed wood or hard board makes it impractical to try bleaching it, according to Glenn Barquest, wood-working specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

If you want a light color you might try applying a light colored dilute pigmented wood stain followed by clear varnish. Try it on a scrap of material before you do it on a wall. Painting with a light color is probably more practical.

Wisconsin PTA Congress Plans Oconto Meeting

Citizenship Will be
Theme for Fall Conference Program

The Eighth District of the Wisconsin Congress of Parents and Teachers will conduct its annual fall conference at the Presbyterian Church in Oconto from 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Oct. 9. The conference is open to all PTA members and other interested persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Berryman, 2217 N. McDonald St., Appleton, co-presidents of the Appleton Area PTA Council, are members of the Eighth District Board. Mrs. Marvin Beyer, Kaukauna, is Outagamie County chairman for the district.

The conference theme will be "Citizenship in Orbit." The program is planned to assist PTA units and councils to give interpretation to specific areas of the national and state PTA programs on citizenship.

Workshops Planned

Workshops planned for the afternoon session will center on the home, with Mrs. William Marsh, Madison, president of the Wisconsin Congress of Parents and Teachers, as chairman; the schools, with Mrs. L. D. Wright, Green Bay, historian of the Wisconsin Congress, as chairman, and recreational resources, with John Jirikovec, principal of Lincoln School, Green Bay, and recreation chairman of the Wisconsin Congress, as chairman and Chester H. Miller, Green Bay recreation supervisor, as resource person.

Officers will be elected during the morning business session and installed at the noon luncheon. Nominees are Mrs. Kenneth James, Green Bay, president; Mrs. James Krei, Marinette, first vice president; Mrs. Fred Noth, Green Bay, secretary, and Mrs. L. A. Wickmann, Sturgeon Bay, historian. D. E. Clusen, assistant warden at the Wisconsin State Reformatory, will be the guest speaker at the noon luncheon.

Illinois Tollway Rates Go Up

Cars, Small Trucks
Will Pay 5 Cents
More After Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Rates on the Illinois Tollways went up Monday.

The new rate schedule, adopted by the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission, will increase the cost to passenger vehicles and small trucks at each toll plaza from 30 to 35 cents.

Rates for large trucks also will be boosted an average five cents, while tolls on the so-called "ticket section" of the Northwest Tollway between Elgin and Beloit will go from $1.05 to $1.20 for the 54-mile trip.

The new rates mean that a passenger vehicle traveling from Indiana to Wisconsin will pay a total of $2.10 in tolls, compared with the $1.80 currently charged.

Increase Revenues

Charles M. Burgess, chairman of the tollway commission, said the new rates were needed to increase revenues. He added that while revenues have been adequate to meet interest charges on the tollway bonds, the bond contract requires that there be a 2½ year interest and interest reserve fund.

Burgess said that the necessity to accumulate this reserve has prevented any payments into the sinking fund or general reserve fund. He said approximately $23 million is needed to bring all three funds up to schedule.

The commission estimates the increased tolls will produce more than $31 million in revenue in 1964 — an increase of 16 per cent over the estimated 1963 income.

Toastmasters Will Install New Officers

Officers of the Appleton Toastmasters Club will be formally installed at a meeting Thursday at 6 p.m. in Alex's Manor House.

Harry Hall will begin his term as president. Other officers are Steve Heegeman, educational vice president; Edward Klune, administrative vice president; Glen Rasmussen, secretary; Darwin Kobs, treasurer; and Jim Crane, sergeant-at-arms.

A highlight of the evening's program will be a humorous speech contest. Winner of the competition will represent Appleton in the northern district humorous speech contest to be held at Antigo Oct. 12.

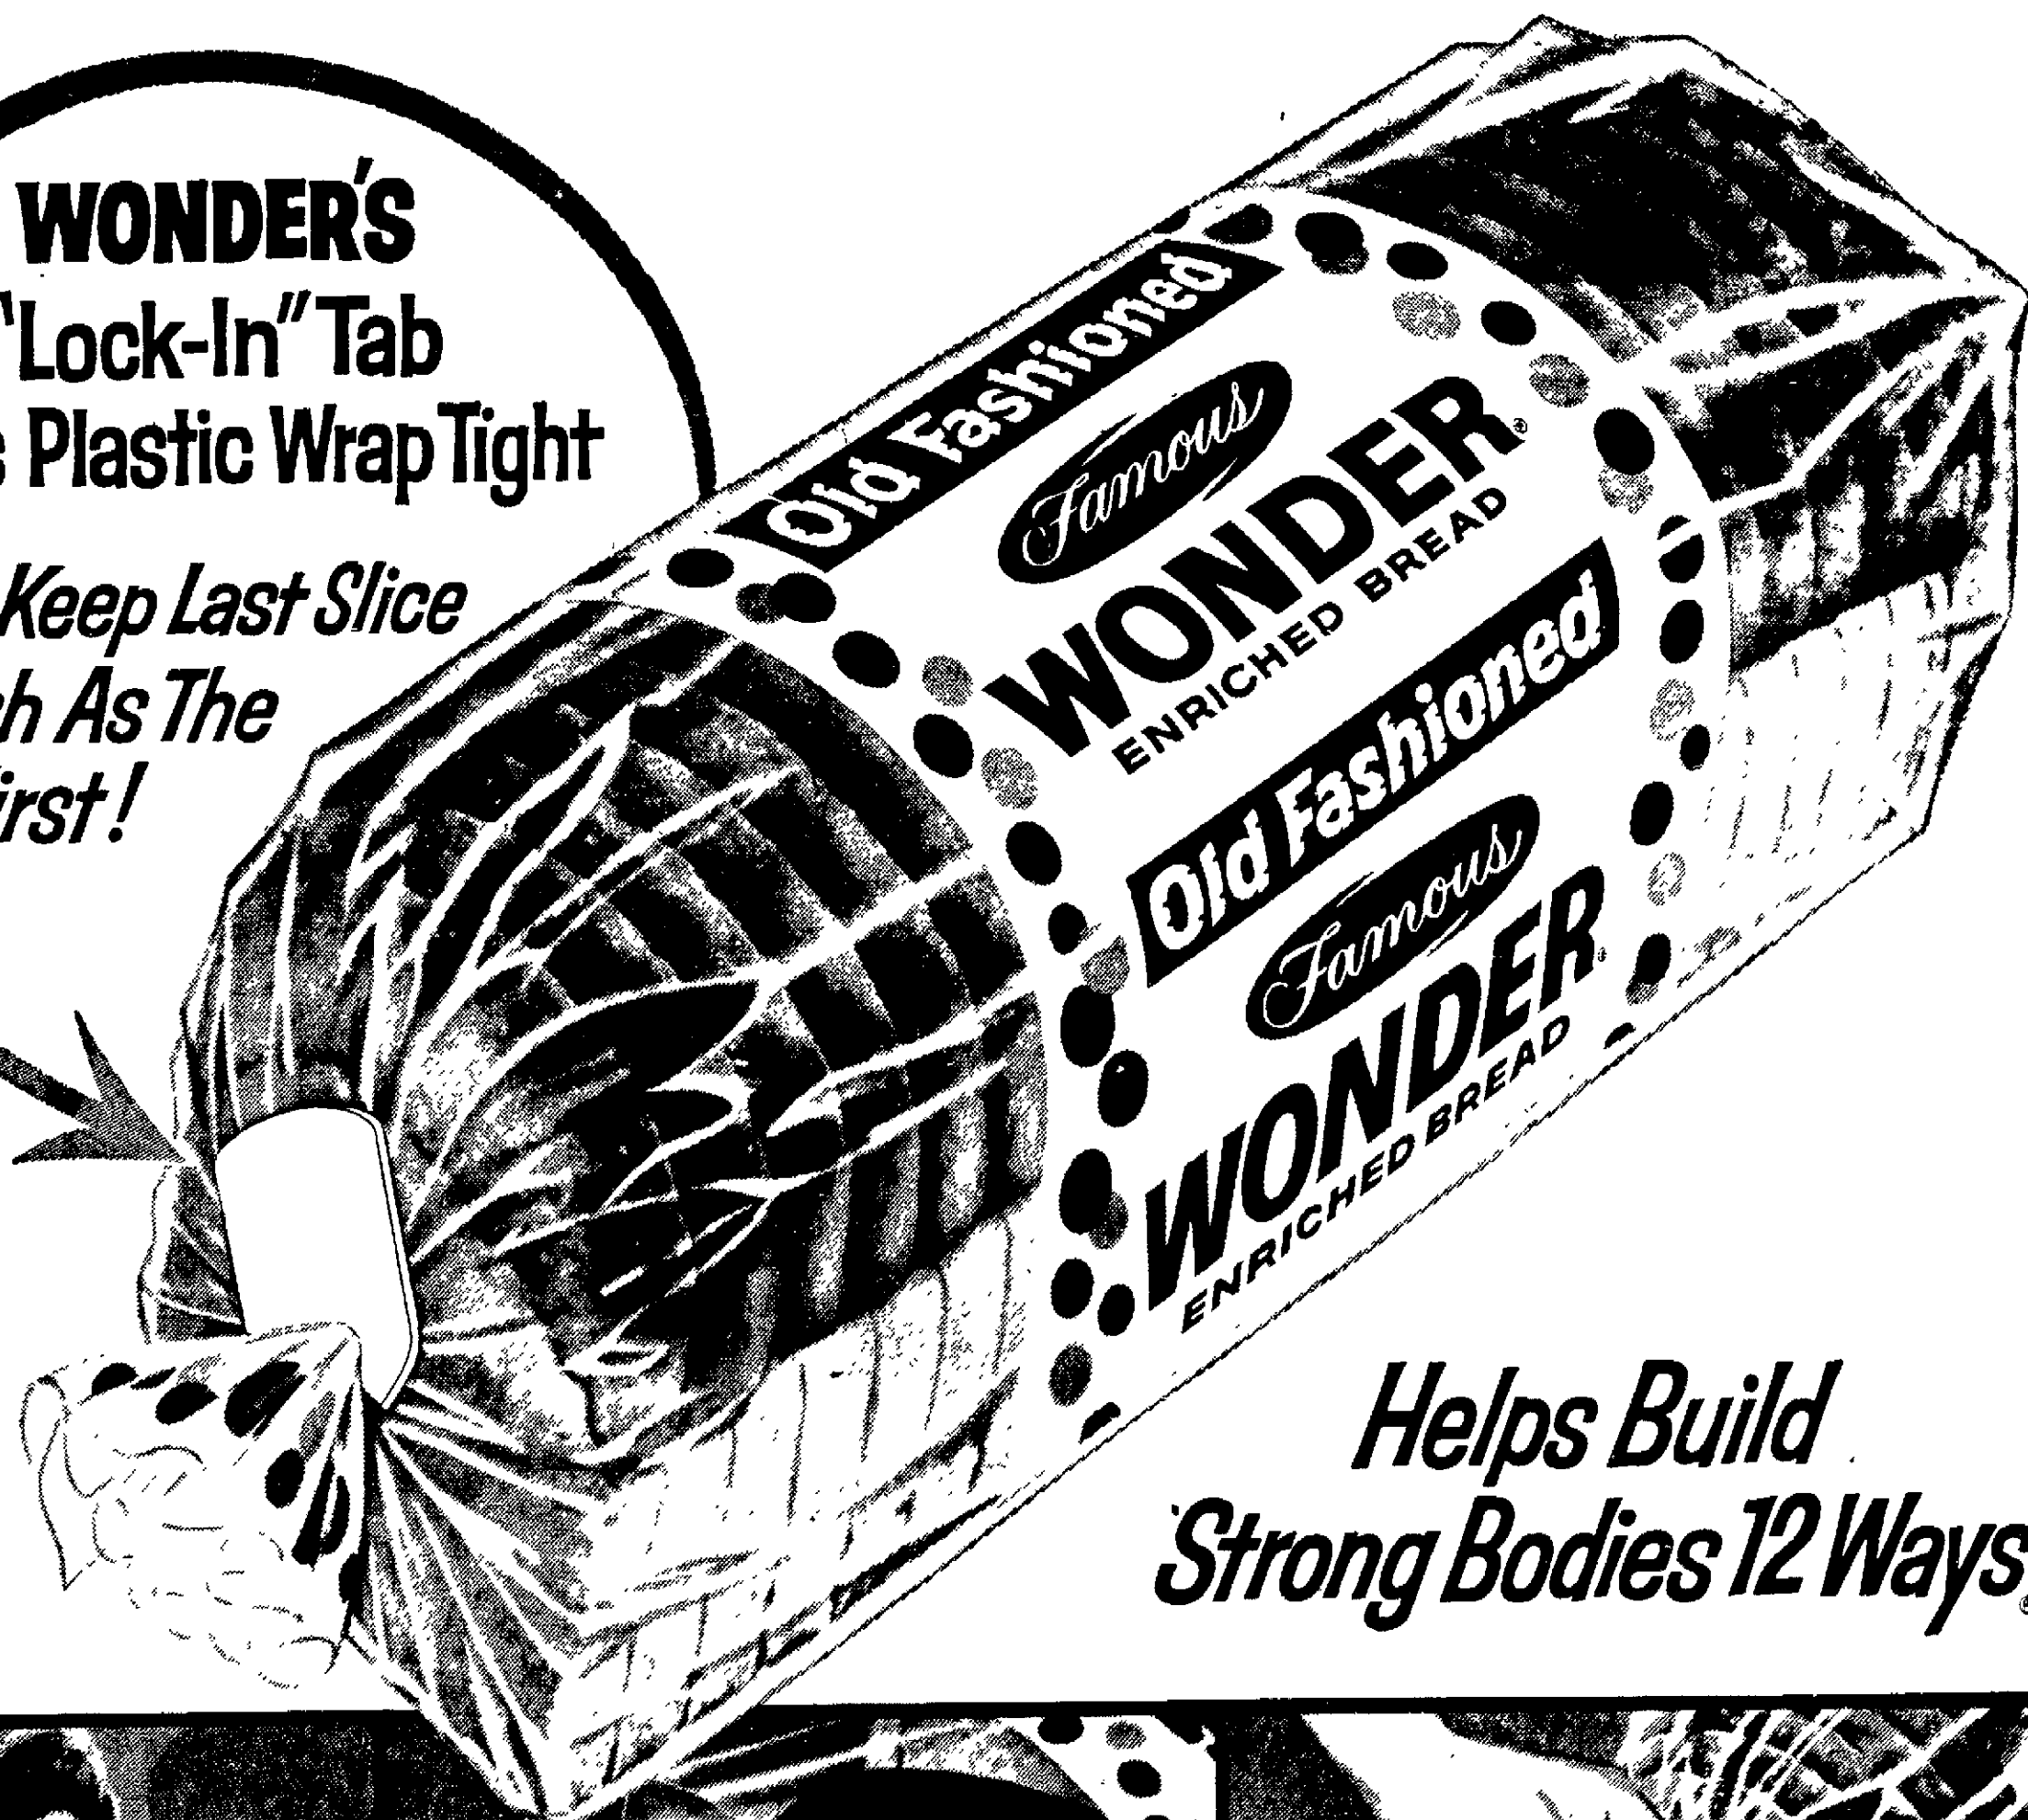

Another feature of the program will be an address by Bob Last, northern district lieutenant governor, in observance of the 33rd anniversary of Toastmasters International.

U. S. Senate Moving Slowly On Tax Cut

Civil Rights Now Appears to Have Priority on Slash

BY J. W. DAVIS
WASHINGTON AP—Admirers of the United States Senate like to call it the greatest deliberative body in the world.

Less enthusiastic observers have been known to agree only that it is the most deliberative.

In any event, it is taking its time with the big tax reduction bill that President Kennedy declared last January — nearly nine months ago — "is urgently needed to spur the growth of our economy."

The bill, which Kennedy has called "the most important domestic economic measure to come before Congress in the last 15 years," may even get sidetracked until next year.

The $11-billion tax cut has passed the House. The Senate probably will not take it up until after it has disposed of the Kennedy administration's civil rights proposals.

Congress is under heavy pressure on the civil rights issue, and the House may pass a bill within the next few weeks.

Civil Rights Bill

Senate Democratic Leader Mike
Mansfield of Montana said Sept.
14 that he intended to take whatever civil rights bill the House does pass, put it on the Senate calendar, and then call it up for debate as soon as possible.

That would mean a filibuster by Southern senators that could last no one knows how long.

Marshfield also said then that if the Senate can act on the tax measure this year, it probably will be the last bill brought up.

Mansfield laid down the civil rights priority before the killing of four Negro girls by a dynamiter in a Birmingham, Ala., church — a deed that added to already strong demands for action now.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D.
N.Y., predicted last week that "this do-nothing Congress" would fail to pass civil rights legislation this year. He called for a national "black revolution" to win rights for Negroes.

Both Bills Favored

The administration has been plugging for action this year on both civil rights and tax reduction.

A growing number in the Senate, however, say it can't handle both, that there just isn't time.

For example, this past weekend,
Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., each said it would be physically impossible to pass both, that President Kennedy must decide which he wants.

Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and John J. Williams, R-Del., said they would like to see the tax bill delayed until January, after the administration submits its new annual spending budget.

Williams said he would be willing for the measure, whenever it is passed, to be retroactive to
Jan. 1, 1964, the date set by the House for the first cuts to take effect.

This possibility of making the cuts date back to January 1 could undermine arguments on the need for speed.

Nixon Feels That Rockefeller Will Seek Nomination

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M.
Nixon says Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller made it "quite clear" during a chat three weeks ago that he will seek the 1964 Republican nomination for president.

The former vice president says that as a result of the talk he has no doubt that Rockefeller will make the race. Nixon added that he believes Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona also will be a candidate for the nomination.

"Both are so heavily committed," he said, "that it will be impossible for them to pull back."

Drew Street Extension Is Opposed Again

Committee Agrees To Let AAL Drive Pilings in Street

Appleton's street - sanitation committee for a second time Tuesday recommended denial of a petition to extend Drew Street to provide access to Northland Avenue.

Previously, the committee recommended denial of a request by Percy Menning to have Drew Street extended, but the matter was referred back by the council when the school board expressed interest in the proposal.

Ald. Clifford Radder (16th) expressed his opposition and said, "I can remember when we originally informed the school board not to expect Drew Street to be connected with Northland."

After conferring with City Planner Walter Rasmussen, the committee decided to take no action and hold the report for further study.

No Opposition

Menning says he entered into an agreement with the state highway commission and Outagamie County to eventually have Drew extended to Northland, and the city registered no opposition at the time.

Ald. Al C. Fischer (15th) spoke in favor of the street extension at the last council meeting.

In other action, the committee recommended purchasing rock salt, used by the street department for ice control purposes in the winter, from Diamond Crystal Salt Co.

Agreed to a one foot encroachment on city street property by the Aid Association for Lutherans new building. The space is needed for pilings.

Requested the director of public works to make a determination as to whether a permit system be adopted for use of the city-leased dump in the Town of Grand Chute.

Eight Kenyan officials are visiting Wisconsin under the AID program. The Bureau of Government of the University of Wisconsin Extension Division is in charge of the program here, and mem- bers of the Ford Urban program

The officials will return to Madison Oct. 18 for individual briefings in areas of special interest before going to Milwaukee for the conference of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities Oct. 24 and 25.

They will leave for Chicago Oct. 26, and on Oct. 30 will travel to Sacramento, Calif. during Novem- ber they will observe the functions of county supervisors and agricul- tural and cooperative activities in California. As council- or, Senga is responsible for main- taining law and order in the dis- trict and collecting taxes. He con- ducts local council meetings and also teaches and assists the peo- ple.

Green Bay Man Leaves Paper Industry

Milan Boex Retires From Marathon As Vice President

Milan Boex, Green Bay, a vice president of Marathon Division of American Can Company, com- peted a 40-year career in the pa- per industry when he retired to- day.

President and general manager of the former Northern Paper Mills when that company was ac- quired by Marathon in 1953, Boex continued to head those opera- tions as vice president of Mar-athon's Northern Products Divi- sion. All Northern sales activities and mills at Green Bay and Me- nominee, Mich., were under his jurisdiction.

After joining Northern Paper Mills in 1923, Boex fulfilled var- ied sales capacities until he was named general sales manager in 1936. Subsequently, he served as assistant to the general manager, as a director and as vice pres- ident until he was elected pres- ident and general manager of Northern in 1948. He also was a director and vice president of the former Marathon Corporation, which was acquired by American Can Company in 1957.

New Techniques

Boex has been instrumental in introducing revolutionary market- ing techniques in the home pa- per products field, including the current "Northern Girls," "All American Boys" and "Aurora" merchandising campaigns.

A native of Green Bay, Boex is a director of that city's Kel-logg Citizens National and Amer- ican National banks. He served four years as a trustee of Law-rence College, and has been a member of the Wisconsin State Historical Society since 1945.

County Executive Plan Defended by Planning Chairman

Views of WCBA Secretary Called Illogical by C. W. Wood

C. W. Wood, chairman of the commission so created. An objec- tion which all agreed was timely Commission, has assailed the views of A. J. Thelen, executive secretary of the Wisconsin County Boards Association, on "modern- ization" of local and county gov- ernmental units.

In a letter sent to the state's 73 county boards, Wood stated Thelen's position that all local governmental problems end at the county line is "illogical, un- reasonable and contrary to exist- ing conditions."

At the annual convention of the Wisconsin County Boards Associa- tion last week in Oshkosh, Thelen would automatically become a backed the county executive plan, but took issue with advocates of a "metropolitan super - govern- ment" to replace the local and county government program.

Not Obsolete

"We should hold up our heads and not bother with the claim that it (county government) is obsolete," Thelen stated. He add- ed, "It has gone from obsolete to indispensable."

He called for the defeat of Bill 566-S which he called the "men- ment commission" and "a step to take away local government." He said commissioners would be appointed by the city, village, town and county chairman and Mr. Thelen that population will not have broad powers. Not one would be elected, Thelen said.

In his letter, Wood described Bill 566-S, the Multiple Purpose Service District Bill as a per- missive bill which would allow now in the two counties of Outa- gamie and Calumet, and the con- ties, cities, villages and towns' to cooperatively provide specified community services.

"The bill," he said, "was intro- duced by Sen. Gerald Lorge (Outa- gamie County Republican from Bear Creek) at the request of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission.

"At the original senate com- mittee hearing, Mr. Thelen op- posed the bill. His sole stated reason for opposition was that the bill lacked a limitation on the bonding power of any such

Board Says Bid Bonds Must be Made by Check

The City of Appleton wants bidders to send certified checks—not cold cash—as bid bonds when requested.

Although a warning was issued several weeks ago to this effect, one firm has not been complying. As a result, the board of public works has recommended "the city not accept legal tender in lieu of certified checks as bid bonds when requested.

The board wants the council to notify Van Daalwyk Construction Co. of the policy.

It seems the firm over the years had gotten into the habit of enclosing hundred dollar bills with bids instead of certified checks as requested. From now on, it will be a certified check or the bid is disqualified if the council approves the board's rec- ommendation when it meets this week.

Roger Baird, Kimberly-Clark Secretary, Cites Limitations of Winnebago, Outagamie Facilities

NEENAH — Business in Outagamie and Winnebago counties is already discussing the possibility of using neither the Outagamie nor Winnebago county airports, but is pushing for east-west schedules out of Brown County's airport, Roger Baird, secretary of Kimberly-Clark Corp., told a Neenah club lunch- een Monday.

Baird said, "We will have two local airports which will fight for business, until the CAB (Civil Aeronautics Board) rules out one. Neither will be able to offer a good east-west flight schedule."

He then said that industry might take its business to the Brown County Airport.

Very Serious Blow

"This would be a very serious blow to the entire Fox Valley, and I hope it will not happen," Baird commented.

In the next two weeks, Winne- bago County must unqualifiedly agree to joint studies and discus- sion with Outagamie County on the regional airport program, and Outagamie must postpone its new airport program or the optimum solution to the common needs of the two counties will never be reached, he said.

He added "the fact that no such discussions have been held is a sad commentary on the visions of the persons responsible."

Baird said that an airport in this area needs safety, flexibility to meet changing conditions and a capacity to generate maximum traffic and hence provide good schedules.

He further explained that both the Outagamie and Winnebago air- ports were deficient in one or more of these requirements.

Might Be "Catastrophic"

"If it (Winnebago Airport) should have ... an accident ... it might be catastrophic," he said. "An overshoot or undershot landing or takeoff accident could put an aircraft into bridges, embankments, auto traffic on ma- tions, or into homes, schools or stores.

"This would make such a crash

Bar Owner Has 'Em to Share

So You Think You Got Troubles, Huh?

BY RAY PY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

You think you've got trou- bles?

Gerald John Joosten, 44, 1904 N. Superior St., owner and op- erator of Jack's Bar, 523 W. Wisconsin Ave., has troubles to share.

Since Sunday when Joosten left Appleton to visit a daugh- ter:

The bartender he left in charge of the tavern was ar- rested and charged with oper- ating without a bartender's li- cense;

Joosten Arrested

Joosten was arrested and charged with allowing an unli- censed bartender to work;

And burglars entered his home, broke into his wall safe and took about $2,000 in change and small denomination bills.

Joosten and his bartender, William H. Liethen, 31, 1403 1/2 W. College Ave., pleaded guilty to their charges and were fined $100 and costs this morn- ing by County Judge Gustave Keller.

Liethen had made application for a license but had neglect- ed to fill out a health card. Without the card, the applica- tion was void. Police arrested Liethen Sunday and charges were made against Joosten the same day.

Joosten and Liethen appear- ed in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Monday where their cases were continued until to- day. Both had posted bonds of $150.

Discovered by Wife

When Joosten left the court Monday and went home he found detectives investigating the break-in to his home which had been discovered by his wife earlier.

A small padlock which bolt- ed the door on the home-made wall safe had been forced and the two bank bags containing the money was missing. Left behind were several checks.

Police found no signs of forced entry into the home and assumed that the burglar made good his theft sometime Sun- day while the family was out of town.

Partition Catches Fire in Basement Of Old AAL Unit

A wooden partition caught fire about 9 p. m. Monday in the base- ment of the old Aid Association for Lutherans building, 228 W. Col- lege Ave., which is being razed to make way for new construc- tion.

Appleton Fire Department au- thorities said the fire may have been started by sparks from cut- ting torches used by the employ- ees of the Madison Wrecking Co. to sever metal rods and beams in the basement of the building.

Firemen had to enter the debris- cluttered building from the alley- way and work their way forward to the fire. Fire Chief Roland Kuehl said some smoke entered the main AAL building next door and smoke ejectors were used to clear it out.

Traffic was tied up for about one hour while firemen put out the small blaze.

Woman Burned In Truck Fire

One person received minor burns when the tractor trailer truck she was riding in suddenly burst into flame on U.S. 41 near U.S. 10 about 8 a.m. today.

Injured but not hospitalized was Mrs. Keith Wolff, 16, route 2, Black Creek. She leaped from the truck which was being driven to Oshkosh by her husband, Keith, 20, when flames suddenly envel- oped the car. The truck was load- ed with hay.

Wolff stopped the truck and managed to shut off the ignition before he leaped from the truck. He was not injured. The entire cab of the truck was gutted and some of the hay was burned. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

County, and state police and the Town of Grand Chute Fire De- partment were at the scene to assist in putting out the fire.

Neenah Waste Manufacturing Firm to Close

NEENAH — The 60-year-old waste manufacturing business of Meyer Burstein Sons, located at Canal Street and Doty Ave- nue is being liquidated. The pro- cessing machinery has been sold and shipped out while most of the raw materials and finished products also have been disposed of.

The firm was operated as a partnership by Joseph D. and Abraham G. Burstein. Members of the firm will remain in the city as the waste manufacturing operation was only one facet of their interests.

The waste manufacturing in- dustry in recent years has been shrinking as synthetics have been taking the place of cotton. Much of the industry has moved to the southeast and production now is only a small percentage of what it was 15 or 20 years ago.

Opening of Einstein Bids Likely Soon

Construction in Spring Possible for New Junior High

The Appleton Board of Educa- tion probably will open bids for the proposed Einstein Junior High School in mid-November.

Superintendent of Schools Royce E. Kurtz told the board Monday that plans and specifications for the northside school will be com- pleted this week.

The board asked for recom- mendations from the architects and the administration at its Oct. 14 meeting on the best time for bidding and for the start of con- struction.

Kurtz had suggested advertising for bids to be opened in late Octo- ber or early November. Board members pointed out that the time construction is started can affect the cost.

More Expensive
Starting construction in the middle of winter is quite a bit more expensive than starting in the spring, said board member Victor Sumnitch.

The new junior high school, which will cost an estimated $1.8 million, probably will not be ready for occupancy until the fall of 1965, so construction could be started early in the spring of 1964, Kurtz said. The school originally was planned for operation in the fall of 1964, but delays in the planning have postponed the open- ing date.

Advertising for bids must be published a minimum of 15 days before bids are opened. If the board authorizes the administra- tion to advertise for bids at its next meeting, a November date probably would be set for opening the bids.

$1.5 Million Parker Estate Ordered Assigned to Heirs

OSHKOSH — An estate of close to $1.5 million was left by the late Martha Fraser Parker of Menasha, wife of the former board chairman and president of Kimberly - Clark Corp. She died Nov. 6, 1959.

The estate's value was listed in papers filed Monday with County Judge Herbert J. Mueller who or- dered the estate assigned to the heirs.

An inventory filed in her estate Monday listed the Wisconsin share of her holdings at $1,326,751 and the total estate at $1,476,276. The net amount for distribution deter- mined for Wisconsin inheritance taxes, was $939,175.

Included in her estate was $1- 151,436 in stocks, of which $789- 406 was in Kimberly - Clark Corp. stock. Municipal bonds came to

Council Battle Lines Drawn on Private Garbage Collection Plan

Milwaukee Firm Has Asked Opportunity To Submit Bids for Hauling Contract

Battle lines have been drawn and rubbish on a once-a-month within the common council over basis. There has been some com- whether the City of Appleton plan that trash collections should should consider contracting with be made on a more frequent a private firm to handle garbage basis.

Alvin E. Tews (5th) introduced the resolution at the last common council meeting, commenting, "I am neither for or against having a private contractor do the work because we have no information on which to make a decision."

Answer Due
Tews said because the city had been approached by private firms, it should give an answer. His resolution would direct the street- sanitation committee to take im- mediate steps to prepare speci- fications for garbage and rubbish collection in ample time for bids, or proposals to be received and reviewed prior to 1964 budget hearings and compared with the city's present plans and costs.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues previously said it would take about a month for his de- partment to compile a report and recommendations based on a gar- bage-trash collection survey con- ducted this past summer. The committee took the position that no specifications should be pre- pared until the DPW has con- cluded its report.

"If any outside firm wants to come in here, it can prepare its own specifications," commented Ald. Clifford Radder (16th).

In the last, several council members have been ardent sup- porters of "free enterprise," but there are now some who hesitate to say it should apply to gov- ernmental functions.

Contract Sought
City Disposal Co., Milwaukee, asked the council several months ago for an opportunity to submit a proposal on providing the city with twice-a-week garbage and trash collections. It claimed the work could be done cheaper and more efficiently than by the gov- ernment.

The matter is expected to come before he council Wednesday night.

Man Just Released From State Hospital Gets Jail Term

A man who was released from the county jail last Wednesday after serving more than four months at Central State Hospital in Waupun was sentenced to the Outagamie County jail for 10 more days Monday by the county court after he pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct.

Patrick Kerrigan, 34, route 2, Kaukauna, was arrested by county police and sheriff authorities Sunday. Sheriff Calvin Spice said the man had become disorderly in telephone conversations to the sheriff's department since his re- lease from custody.

Spice said Kerrigan was at- tempting to have the sheriff's de- partment get his automobile back from a friend who apparently borrowed it when Kerrigan was sent to the hospital four months ago.

Kerrigan told the court he had been drinking "a little bit" since his release from custody. His re- quest that the court allow him to join the alcoholics anonymous instead of sending him to jail was denied.

Busy Corner! Fire Hydrant 'Disappears'

Fire Chief Roland Kuehl wants his fire hydrant back. He said so today.

Kuehl notified the Appleton Water Department the sooner it reinstalls a hydrant at the southeast corner of Washington and Appleton Streets the bet- ter.

The hydrant pulled a "dis- appearing act" a few days ago as the edge of the street started to cave in around the H. C. Prange Co. parking structure project.

Down came a portion of the street and with it the hydrant. City officials notified the con- tractor that streets surrounding three sides of the parking struc- ture suffered slippage in re- cent days. The situation is be- ing remedied at the expense of the company.

In the meantime, the water department assured Kuehl he will have a new hydrant at the corner immediately.

Budget Cut Request Voted Down Again

teachers' salaries would mean cutting 13 teachers at the aver- age salary in Appleton of $6,350, Schulte said. He said he believed the administration could find ways of reducing the staff.

Parents' Pocketbook
"I believe we need good educa- tion for the benefit of the child," Schulte said, "but it must be done with some regard for the pocketbook of the father and mother who pay the bill." He said he did not believe the pro- posed cuts would hamper the educational system.

"I think it is time for someone to have the courage — and I am asking the board to join me in this — to stop public spending at some level," he said. "I hope to see it stopped at the federal level, but I do not think it will be unless we stop it at the local level first."

In proposing a reduction of cap- ital outlay expenditure from $170,000 to $108,000, Schulte pointed out that the actual expenditures for capital outlays in 1963 will be $5,060 higher than in the 1963 budget and in addition to this, payment to the city of $18,199 for public improvements completed in 1963 will be postponed until 1964.

Reduction Softened
The proposed reduction in cap- ital outlay could be softened by postponing payment of $31,000 budgeted for dedicating streets at the southeast senior high school, he said until 1965, he said, although he did not propose this.

Director of Business Affairs William Knuth said the capital outlay expenditures for 1963 ex- ceeded the budget provision be- cause of additional public im- provements approved by the city. Another $5,000 could be added to the 1964 budget for additional work the city contemplates doing, he said.

This work is requested for 1964 as part of the Department of Pub- lic Works budget, Knuth said. If it is cut from this budget, it also will be cut from the school budget, he said.

If you want the new senior high school opened in 1966, you must have the public improvements done in 1964," Knuth warned the board. The 1964 budget includes $31,000 for installation of sewer and water mains and grading and graveling the streets surround- ing the southeast senior high school site.

State Court Rules Convict's Murder Count Must Stand

MADISON (AP)— The Wiscon- sin Supreme Court refused today to grant a new trial for Wilson Lee Brook who was convicted of first degree murder last Septem- ber for killing a Burlington police officer.

The court affirmed a Kenosha County Court judgment sentenc- ing Brook to life imprisonment for the Feb. 5, 1962, slaying of Policeman Anthony Eller.

Brook's attorneys argued that County Judge Urban J. Zievers should have instructed the jury to consider alternate verdicts of 2nd and 3rd degree murder and manslaughter in the case and that the court erred in not grant- ing Brook a new trial.

Eau Claire Seeks Taller TV Tower

EAU CLAIRE (AP)—The gen- eral manager of television station WEAU, in Eau Claire, a subsid- iary of the Post Publishing Com- pany at Appleton, announced Monday that the station is seek- ing to build a new 2,000-foot tower in the vicinity of Fair- child, Wis.

General manager Leo Howard said that with such a tower the station would be better able to serve the La Crosse - Stevens Point-Wausau - Wisconsin Rapids area in addition to the station's present coverage.

He said the station will submit an airways clearance application to the Federal Aviation Agency before officially applying to the Federal Communications Com- mission.

The height of the station's present tower is 1,000 feet. How- ard said it is one of the tallest in the state.

How to tell a broker from a tipster

(Here are five things that give the tipster away)

When you invest, it's hard to think of anything more important than a good broker. Or of anything more dangerous than a mere tipster, whether a well-meaning friend or a stranger on the telephone, urging you to buy.

After all, it's your hard-won money. You would like to have it bring you an income from dividends on stock. Or interest on bonds. Or to have a good prospect of increasing in value over the years.

So remember these five tell-tale signs of the tipster:

Tipster: "Boy, have I got a hot one!"
Broker: A broker in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange, for example, can tell you how badly people can get burned by a tip. And how important it is to have facts. On earn- ings. On dividends. On the company's financial position. Armed with knowledge, you're better able to exercise careful judgment.

Tipster: "Hurry. There's only a limited amount of that stock around."
Broker: He knows that people who rush you often have some- thing else in mind than your welfare. It's wise to take the time to be careful.

Tipster: "It's a chance in a million to make a killing."
Broker: He meets people who have shot for the moon and missed. And people who have, instead, set long-term goals to fit their circumstances and gone a long way toward achieving them.

Tipster: "You can't lose with this."
Broker: He's aware that prices go down as well as up. That a company may not continue to pay dividends or interest.

Tipster: "You'll be wise to put as much as you can into this."
Broker: He believes your living expenses come first. Then provision for emergencies. After that, you may want to invest for income or growth of your capital. Ask him about the Month- ly Investment Plan through which you can invest in stock with as little as $40 every three months.

Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange have no magic key to the future. No one has. And each Member Firm has its distinctive characteristics. But all are subject to the regu- lations of the Exchange. And their Registered Representatives had to meet Exchange qualifications when they became Member Firm brokers. Why not see a nearby Member Firm for more information about investing.

Neenah School Board Asks $2,481,537 Budget for 1964

Neenah Council, Towns, Must Review Budget

NEENAH — An operating budget of $2,481,537 is being asked for the 1964 operation of the Neenah Joint School District. The board unanimously agreed Monday night that the budget in its final form should be presented today to the Neenah council and the town chairmen of the Towns of Neenah, Menasha, Clayton and Vinland for their review.

A debt service of $537,805, which represents principal and interest on bonds, added to the $2.4-plus million operating budget makes a total budget of $3,019,342. This is $71,582 more than the 1963 operating budget, or an increase of 2.4 per cent.

Operating receipts for the 1964 year are expected to bring in $500,048. The total school tax, shared by the citizens of Neenah and the citizens of the Towns of Neenah, Menasha, Vinland and Clayton property owners in the school district, is $2,519,294. Of this total $1,981,489 is operating tax and $537,805 is debt tax, the pre-determined bond commitment. Total receipts are $64,271 over last year.

The budget shows an increase of $348,282 in total school tax in 1964, due to a $283,011 decrease in operating receipts. The reduction in receipts exists in the areas of tuition and special taxes. As a result of school district reorganization, the attached areas no longer have to pay tuition for high school students and the special tax adjustment for school reorganization was payable only in 1963.

President Paul Groth and Business Manager James Clark emphasized that reorganization had distorted the budget figures during part of 1962 and all of 1963. Clark explained, "Other disbursements shows a reduction of $121,865 in expenditures. This is mainly due to the fact that there was no short term loan to pay in 1964. The loan to be paid in 1963 was due to the deficit incurred in 1962 when school reorganization became effective July 1.

"The budget as presented shows a $71,582 increase, of 2.4 per cent increase, in expenditures. However, if you were to exclude the $121,865 decrease in other disbursements resulting from the elimination of a short term loan payable in 1964, the total increase in expenditures would be $193,447 or a 6.6 per cent increase."

The budget for 1964 shows an increase of $348,282 in total school tax in 1964, due to a $283,011 decrease in operating receipts. $1.25 Million School Request Given Boost

Menasha Alderman Wants Things Got 'Out of the Way'

MENASHA — Prospects of passage for the Menasha Board of Education's $1.25 million 1963-64 budget Monday night were given a boost when Fifth Ward Ald. Richard O. Hansen, apparently not pleased at the high budget but resigned to it, indicated it may be best to approve the entire amount and, in his words, "get things out of the way."

Hansen noted several parts of the budget have come up each year for the past few years and been cut out by council. He said the council might as well approve them and get them out of the way else they will just come up again next year.

However, he asked for further discussion and intensive study of the budget before any action is taken.

He pointed out the board of education has vowed to take all necessary steps to be conservative in spending during the pending school year.

The school board is asking for $1,250,736 for the coming year. The figure represents an 11 per cent increase over the 1962-63 budget and a 14 per cent increase in tax levy. Receipts are greater by only 3 per cent.

The budget is increased by 4 per cent in general control; 9 per cent in instruction; 43 per cent in library costs; 11 per cent for supplies; 23 per cent for operation; 3 per cent for special programs; 8 per cent for transportation; and 7 per cent for other items.

Further discussion on the budget was deferred until all council members receive a copy of the proposed expenditures.

First Classes To Begin at Adult School

New Addition In Menasha To Be Put In Use

MENASHA — When classes begin Wednesday for 28 general and 54 homemaking subjects at the Menasha Vocational and Adult School facilities will be expanded by use of the new two-story addition.

The structure, completed this summer west of the school's wood working shop, provides approximately 5,840 square feet of additional space. On the first floor, facing Milwaukee Street, the offset printing shop contains all of the latest equipment, an A. B. Dick 17 x 24 inch offset press and the Harris-Seybold-Potter Co. press donated by the George Banta Co. Also on this floor is the camera and photo dark room, a glassed-in classroom and a lumber storage room.

A large room on the second floor, which could handle gatherings of 200 persons or more, is divided by a moveable wall into two general purpose rooms. One will be used for knitting and special classes during the day and evening sessions, the other is equipped for a sewing room and general class room.

"These new rooms will really take the pressure off the vocational school for space," commented H. L. Sherman, director. "For the past several years we have been using a number of the Menasha High School rooms and now these can be released to them."

"The thing that we are most pleased about is the offset printing facility. We will be able to offer a two year post high school course in graphic arts technology and when we have been approved by the state, which we hope will be during this next year, it will be possible for us to confer an associate degree in graphic arts technology here."

No Formal Opening There will be no formal opening of the new addition but the director of the school said that they will welcome anyone who wishes to go through the new rooms at any time.

Construction began Nov. 20, on the $140,000 addition. The architectural services contract was approved in April that year and

Four Menasha Budgets Near $200,000 Mark

MENASHA — A reliable news source today revealed that four departmental budgets to be submitted to the common council will total approximately $197,000. The four budgets in 1963 totaled approximately $166,000.

Included is the Menasha Police operation, patrol boys treat public operating and outlays; the city park and recreation board; the library board and the operation of the municipal pool.

Largest of the four will be the park and recreation board budget at $104,974. Of this amounting $59,998 will be for payroll; $7,335 for administrative expenses; $29,270 for operating expenses, and $17,601 for capital investments, improvements and replacements.

A total of $29,885 is planned in long range planning for capital investments, improvements and replacements. Estimated receipts are $1,563. The board estimates $76,654 as the minimum with which it can operate. Less receipts, the board is asking for $75,089, not including outlay.

The 1964 budget compares with $63,901 requested in 1963 and $65,805 in 1962, less outlays.

Pool Budget The Menasha pool budget will be totaled at $20,799. Of this amount $15,103 is planned for salaries; $2,699 for supplies and equipment; $2,767 for services; and $230 in pool programs.

The total operating budget is $20,799 with $600 for capital investments for a total budget of $21,399, less estimated receipts of $9,200, for a requested levy from the city of $12,199.

The budget will show no increase over 1963 of salaries and supplies and equipment will differ only by $2,657 for 1963 to $2,699 for 1964. Services will rise from $2,724 in 1963 to $2,767 in 1964.

Police Department The Menasha police operating budget for 1964 may total $16,032, salaries not included.

This compares to $11,556 requested in 1963 and $12,494 spent in 1963. Included in the operational budget went to McMahon Engineering Co., Menasha. E. J. Rippl Co. received the heating and plumbing contract; Haldon Corp., Oshkosh, the general work contract and Langstadts, Inc., Appleton, the electrical contract. The cost of new equipment was also included in the contract figure.

The four were taken to police headquarters where they were questioned and released. The older men said the fight started when the youths called them names.

Kimberly JVs Stop Menasha

Winners Tally 2 Touchdowns in Second Quarter

MENASHA — Kimberly dealt the Menasha jayvees their second defeat 21-0 at the Bluejay practice field Monday afternoon.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Papermakers scored midway in the second on an 80 yard run by Jim VandenHeuvel. Mark Seidl plunged for the extra point.

The visitors took a 14-0 half-time lead on a 60-yard pass play from Seidl to end Tom VanCuyk. Leo Anthony plunged for the extra point.

Neither team did any scoring in the third frame but Kimberly tallied early in the fourth on a 4-yard pass to VandenHeuvel. VanCuyk caught a pass for the extra point.

Menasha's deepest penetration was to the Kimberly 25 in the second period. It took over on the 32 after an intercepted pass but had to punt on fourth down.

Coach Jack VandenBoogaard said Tim Bork, Gerry Gear and Tom Kosiorek ran well on offense for the Jays and John Stip, Jim Reinke and Jim Yocum led the defensive unit. Jim Olson also got off two long punts.

Dow Jones Average
Up 5.71 at Noon,
Now Reads 738.50

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rebounded in active trading early this afternoon as blue chips erased much of the losses taken in the previous session.

Brokers called it a technical recovery from an oversold condition.

A notable feature of the session was a great increase in volume over Monday when stocks were losing ground. First-hour volume was 125 million compared with Monday's 980,000.

Motors, rails, steels, utilities, oils, chemicals, drugs, office equipments, rubbers, mail order-retails and electrical equipments moved higher. Nonferrous metals, building materials and tobaccos were mixed.

After an irregular opening the market advanced and was at its peak in early afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 12 at 2772 with industrials up 20, rails up 6 and utilities up 4.

Chrysler, up more than a point, and Sperry Rand, up a fraction, still appeared to be running number one and two on the list of volume leaders.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 5.71 at 738.50. Prices moved irregularly higher in fairly active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were a bit higher.

Prosecutor Refuses To Drop Charges of Disorderly Conduct

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dist. Atty. William J. McCauley refused Monday to drop disorderly conduct charges against 10 persons arrested in a demonstration staged by the Congress of Racial Equality at the courthouse recently.

McCauley announced his intention after John H. Givens Jr., chairman of the racial group said the organization would not retract statements which the district attorney called "inflammatory."

The statements, made in a leaflet, charged the sheriff's department and the district attorney's office with an injustice because of the arrest of CORE demonstrators. The sit-ins at the courthouse were part of a protest to statements by Fred E. Lins, a member of the Social Development Commission.

High Waves Overturn U. S. Landing Craft

HONOLULU (AP) — High waves and a treacherous cross current caused 15 small landing craft loaded with Marines to overturn Monday in war games on the island of Molokai, 50 miles southeast of Honolulu.

Seven Marines and Navy men were injured, none of them seriously, when the vessels swamped, a Marine Corps spokesman said. The craft, each of them carrying about 25 Marines, were participating in the initial landing of Operation Dull Knife, an amphibious exercise involving 7,000 Marines of the 1st Marine Brigade at Kaneohe and 6,000 sailors aboard 17 ships.

Badgers Fourth In College Football Poll

Oklahoma Takes Lead, Knocking USC To Eighth Place

BY JOHN CHANDLER Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oklahoma Sooners, who have gone through a seven year drought since their last championship team, took over first place by a landslide today in the second Associated Press weekly poll of the nation's Top Ten football teams.

Oklahoma, which defeated the 1962 national champion Southern California Trojans Saturday 17-12 in the blistering 105-degree heat of Los Angeles, vaulted from

Fumble Outbreak By Packers Has Lombardi Puzzled

'We've Been Stopping Ourselves And This Must End,' Says Coach

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) —Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi he thought the Packers may be is a puzzled man. He is unable "going into games a little tight."

"We're trying to overdo this," Lombardi said. "We've always been a closely knit team. The mere fact that the offense is experiencing some difficulty means we're just going to have to hang in there tougher."

"We've got to feel that they're going to get rolling. It's only a matter of time."

Offensive guard Jerry Kramer, another of Green Bay's All-NFL cast, credited pre-season training for helping to keep the Packers rolling.

"Thank heaven for our fine conditioning," Kramer said. "So far it's been a matter of beating the other team down."

"We've been using the same offense for five years now. Perfection is our key. There's no excuse for mental and physical errors."

The Packers are tied with the Minnesota Vikings, a game behind Chicago's undefeated Bears, in the Western Division. Lombardi is satisfied with his team's standing — although unhappy with the flock of mistakes by his offense.

"It's anybody's race," the coach said. "Baltimore is still in this thing very much and the Detroit Lions can't be counted out. Then, of course, there are the Bears."

"Before the season started I felt if we could come out of our first three games with two out of three wins we'd be in good shape. I still feel that way."

Willie Davis, an All-League second-teamer, said the Packers' fumbles and two pass interceptions Sunday, but managed to pull out a 31-20 victory over the Baltimore Colts who lost the ball five times on bobbles and twice on passes.

'Not Asking for Handouts'

Braves Payroll Is 50 Per Cent Above Average, John McHale Says

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "We're not asking for handouts," John McHale said. "I don't think the average baseball fan gives a hoot about whether his team is making any money. All he wants to know is did it win or lose."

"But if you want to know what it takes to operate the Milwaukee Braves," McHale said. "Ralph can tell you."

McHale is president and general manager of the Braves. Ralph Delforge is corporate secretary and assistant treasurer, the man who pays the bills. They were talking about the business side of baseball to an extent perhaps unprecedented in the secluded claves of the major leagues.

Public Offering

But the business of the Braves, in the year since a group of young Milwaukee and Chicago businessmen bought them from Lou Perini for nearly $6 million, has become everybody's business in Milwaukee. When the ownership group made a public offering of unissued stock last spring, the intimate details of profit and loss, revenue and expense, became a public record in the prospectus, search and development — the only about 15,000 of the 115,000 offered shares were sold, at an average price of $11.38, a price frankly aimed at the average fan — perhaps because the average fan may not be a regular caller at plush brokerage houses. But they made their point with the offering, and the balance sheet.

Koufax Shakes Cold, Duels Yankees' Ford Wednesday

New York Favored, 7½-5, in World Series; Alston Believes McMullen Will be Able to Play

BY JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The odds flu When the Dodgers arrived in favoring the New York Yankees New York Late Monday night, by 7½-5 returned to normal today Koufax said he never had the flu, as did the reports on the tempera- only a slight cold ture of Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' brilliant left hander who will pitch the World Series opener at Yankee Stadium Wednesday against Whitey Ford.

The odds began to fluctuate as "Tell them he'll pitch" While Alston was expressing no doubts about his pitching ace, he was concerned about third baseman Ken McMullen.

Has Not Played

McMullen pulled a hamstring muscle last Thursday and has not played since. Alston thinks the youngster will be able to start but if he cannot, Jim Gilliam will switch over to third base and Dick Tracewski, a light-hitting good fielding reserve, will open at second base.

"Even if the muscle pull is healed," said Alston cautiously, "McMullen will have been out five or six days and may not be in the shape we'd like. And whether the leg will stand up is something we'll have to wait and see."

Alston also was highly vexed with the pitching performance of veteran left-hander Johnny Podres — the probable second game starter — against Philadelphia Saturday night. The 30-year-old left-hander, who shut out the Yankees in the final game of the 1955 World Series, was pounded for eight runs and 12 hits in 2 2-3 innings. Included were two home runs.

"I wanted him to stay in five or six innings to get the work since he hadn't pitched all week," said Alston. "I left him in until it got so embarrassing I had to take him out."

The Dodgers' late arrival enabled the Yankees to engage in a long workout during which Ford, lefty Al Downing and right-hander Jim Bouton took long turns pitching. The trio is expected to start all the games, even if the Series goes the seven-game limit.

Best Condition

"Ford and Downing will pitch the first and second games here," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk at the end of the workout. "It will be Bouton in the third game in Los Angeles."

Unlike Alston, Houk has no player problems.

"The club is in the best condition," he said.

Xavier Has State's Best Grid, Cage Winning Streaks

Cadets Expected to Put Great Pressure on Football Skein

FOX VALLEY CATHOLIC CONFERENCE

Friday's Games

Saturday's Game

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Appleton Xavier High School, which in the first four and a fraction years of its history has already won more athletic honors

One Other Loss

The only other encounter between the teams was won by Xavier, 23-16 in 1961. That score probably better represents the closeness in strength between the two Valley powers. The only other game Premontre has lost, besides the pair to Xavier, in the last three seasons was a 3-2 decision to Green Bay West last year.

This season Premontre has won by progressively bigger margins: 13-6 over West, 25-6 over Fond du Lac St. Mary Springs and 36-0 over Pennings.

Xavier has beaten Rhinelander (31-6) and Stevens Point Parelli (49-0) in non-league play and has scored FVCC decisions over St. John (34-0) and St. Mary.

Best Streak

Last Friday, the Hawks beat Mequa St. Mary, 19-0, for their 26th straight football win over a 4-season span. It became the state's best streak extant when will be Bouton in the third game small-school Waunakee lost, 19-0, to Lodi—thereby severing a win skein at 28 straight.

The Hawks' 27th basketball win proved the toughest of the streak, as they had to rally in the fourth quarter to beat Milwaukee Marquette.

Xavier's quest for successive football win No. 27 will also be fraught with danger. Premontre figures to put severe pressure on the streak Friday night—possibly the most pressure since the chain started in mid-1960.

The Hawks invade Green Bay Friday night in the state's top high school attraction of the week. The unbeaten Cadets, who share the Fox Valley Catholic Conference lead with Xavier and have been runnersup to the Hawks for two successive years, have doubtless been laying ominous plans for Xavier's arrival ever since the Hawks' 41-3 victory here last October. It was the worst defeat in Premontre's proud gridiron history.

Stevens Point '11' Tops Titans, 31-19

OSC Gives Unbeaten Pointers Trouble With Aerial Attack

BY ALLAN EKVAL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Stevens Point State College had its goal line crossed several times Monday night, but the Titans of Oshkosh State College were unable to topple the Pointers from the ranks of the undefeated.

The Pointers won 31 to 19 in a game marked by exceptional ground play by the invading Pointers and pass plays by the Titans.

Oshkosh lost its opener to River Falls State College and fought a scoreless battle with University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. It travels to Eau Claire for a conference tilt there Saturday night before returning to Oshkosh for a Dad's Day game against Whitewater Oct. 12.

Stevens Point piled up 66 points in its first two games while holding Platteville and Stout scoreless.

Sparkling the juggernaut ground attack of the Pointers were Sonny Redders, a junior from Monona Grove, whose scat dancing through the line and broken field fooled Titan tacklers, and George Rivers, fullback from Cornell, who twisted and turned to corkscrew his way down the field. Redders scored 19 of Stevens Point's 31 points.

Oshkosh's Jim Jaeger again turned in a top aerial game with his bullet passes finding New London's Dick Emerich's fingers for quite a few first downs. Menasha's Rocky Gmeiner, a freshman starting at half for the first time, proved to be one of Oshkosh's best ground gainers. Jaeger also picked up strong yardage when he ran the ball. Gordy Veldboom was the third ground gainer for the Titans.

Oshkosh completed 13 of its 27 pass attempts for a net aerial yardage of 180 yards, of which 132 were in the second half. Its net rushing was 120 yards on 35 tries, picking up a total of 153 yards on the ground but losing 38. Its second half net on the ground was 39 yards.

Stevens Point took to the air only seven times and made good two of those passes for a net of 32 yards. It ran 45 ground plays to pick up a net of 302 yards.

Stevens Point scored the first touchdown with 1½ minutes left in the opening quarter by recovering an Oshkosh fumble in the end zone. Clintonville's Bob Gensler took a bad pass from center on a fourth down punt play and fumbled the ball while being tackled in the end zone by Ron Wildman who fell on the ball for a TD. Redders converted.

It was 14 to 9 with 11½ minutes left in the second quarter, climaxing a 52-yard advance. Redders sliced through the line and secondary for a 21-yard touchdown swish. He also booted the placement.

The Titans took the kickoff on their own 4-yard line and returned it to the 21. Passes of 15 and 16 yards each from Jaeger to Dick Emerich and a 35-yard run by Jaeger wound up with an 11-yard pass to John Thome for the Titans' first touchdown of the season. Hortonville's Lloyd Fuller converted.

A 22-yard third quarter field goal by Redders with nine minutes left put the Pointers further ahead, 17 to 7. A Titan fumble of a punt on the 18 helped set the field goal.

The Pointers moved further ahead in the fourth quarter to a 22 to 7 lead when Rivers found the end goal for runs of 34 and 26 yards. Redders took a 14 yard touchdown pass from Quarterback Larry Balousek. The conversion attempt failed.

Oshkosh's Charles Duff returned the kickoff 42 yards and Jaeger hurled a 17-yard pass to Gerry Gyp and one for 16 yards to Dick Emerich before Rocky Gmeiner took it over from the six. The conversion attempt failed.

The Titans narrowed the gap to a 23 to 19 lead five minutes later after Jaeger's aerial shot to Dick Emerich was good for 25 yards and one to Gyp from 13 yards out scored the touchdown. Fuller's conversion attempt was blocked.

Stevens Point shoved over the clincher after Redders eluded Titan tacklers for 46 yards in a broken field zig-zag that moved the ball up to the 18. He followed this with a 16-yard smash and Balousek carried over from the 1. Redders ran out the extra point to move his own point total for the night to 19. Only 2½ minutes were left and Oshkosh was down, 31-19.

Brandt Has Confidence, Bruhn Says

Badger Mentor Praises Defensive Work in Secondary

CHICAGO (AP) — Wisconsin football coach Milt Bruhn said Monday that the Badgers' football fortunes this season hinge mainly on the development of junior quarterback Hal Brandt.

"Brandt has had to overcome a Ron Vanderkelen," Bruhn told the Chicago American's Quarterback Club.

"In spring drills he was trying to copy everything Vanderkelen had done," the coach said. "Brandt is a left-handed passer and he even was going to his right to throw."

"But now he has confidence in himself and has had the opportunity to find himself. And our season depends on how our quarterback develops."

Bruhn said that the Badgers' 14-9 victory over Notre Dame Saturday was "a hard-hitting, rugged contest with Notre Dame playing an excellent brand of football."

Helped Out Most

"The thing that probably helped us out the most was our secondary of Jim Purnell, Jim Nettles, Bill Smith and Ron Frain," the coach said. "When they settled down, they choked off those passes to Notre Dame's great end, Jim Kelly. We substituted with two and three units and gradually wore down Notre Dame."

At South Bend, Ind., Notre Dame coach Hugh Devore said "we just ran into a great football team with speed and size."

"They've got a couple of lines that can hold their own with anybody and few teams are going to have as much backfield speed or as many runners who threaten to go all the way on you," Devore said.

"As for quarterback, where they thought they'd have a problem, well if Bruhn doesn't want that Brandt, I'll take him home and feed him at my table."

Fox Valley Family Incomes Are Bigger

66.5 Per Cent of Households Earn $4,000-$7,000 Annually

Fox Valley residents have moved into higher income brackets during the last few years, according to a copyrighted report in "Sales Management", a trade publication. The figures are based on income for households, not individuals. Reports show that workers in the Outagamie, Waupaca, Winnebago and Calumet Counties are generally earning higher salaries. A smaller portion of families remain in low income positions and a larger proportion than ever before is moving into the middle-income or higher brackets, the report stated. Some households which have been in the $4,000 to $7,000 annual pay level have climbed to the $7,000 to $10,000 bracket. Those previously in the $2,500 to $4,000 income bracket have moved into the next higher category.

Surveys Show Goldwater as Leading in Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Surveys by news magazines Monday found that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona is the front contender for the Republican presidential nomination—and that he could give President Kennedy a tight race.

Newsweek said its check showed that Goldwater probably has 500 of the 653 GOP convention votes needed to win the party's nomination, and the prospect of considerably more.

Simultaneously, Time Magazine said a state-by-state survey indicated that Goldwater could give President Kennedy "a breathless close contest" in the present climate of opinion.

Assessing the likely swing of electoral votes in various states, Time said the outcome in a Goldwater-Kennedy race could hinge on how Texas went. The magazine added:

"If Texas went Democratic Kennedy would have 280 electoral votes, 10 more than the 270 needed for a majority. If Texas went for Goldwater, Barry would have 266, with an excellent chance for picking up more than the necessary additional four from among the Kennedy-hating unpledged electors of Alabama and Mississippi." Newsweek said the results of its survey, showing Goldwater with 500 convention votes, did not include the 280 votes held by New York, California, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

To Your Good Health Avoid Weight Lifting If You're Over 35

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D., well and drink water from it. It Dear Dr. Molner: Do you advise a man of 35 and in good health to start weight-lifting? I am 10 pounds overweight and was told this is a good method of reducing and of toning up the muscles.

But I have also heard that weight-lifting can cause hernias and back trouble. — V. B.

At the risk of drawing on my head the ire of weight-lifters, I vote against it, my philosophy being it's "better-safe-than-sorry."

Weight-lifting is a sport that should be started earlier in life. Then you can gradually acquire the necessary muscle development.

I have no doubt that plenty of weight-lifters never have either hernias or back trouble—but they are people who have learned the art gradually and well.

A stranger to weight-lifting, trying to do too much too soon, and without suitable instruction, is asking for trouble.

Besides, there's nothing extra-special about this sport as a form of exercise to lose weight. There are any number of other exercises that are easier to learn, safer for the novice and more appropriate for a man of 35 who hasn't been in training for strenuous athletics.

The answers are all included in my booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," because, although fissures and fistulas are quite different from hemorrhoids, they are all problems best handled by a proctologist. To receive a copy, send 20 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lord Home Backs Plan For Arms Summit Talks

Warns Directives Must be Drafted in Advance to Give Value to Sessions

BY TOM HOGG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Lord Home gave guarded approval today to the Soviet Union's proposal for an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament before June 30.

Home warned, however, in a speech before the U.N. General Assembly that a number of clear directives would have to be drafted in advance if such a meeting is to have any value.

Key points that should be agreed upon, he said, are non-dissemination of information about the making and use of nuclear weapons, stationing of observers to guard against surprise attack and progress toward abolition of nuclear delivery vehicles.

"My government will gladly join in any preliminary discussions which in turn could lead to such a meeting as Mr. Gromyko (Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko) described, and give it a better chance of showing results," Home said.

He blamed the "deep schism in ideology between the Communist world and the rest" for the "comparative failure of the United Nations Organization to develop collective security . . . In the long run the only sure guarantor of peace."

Occupied With Peking

After his assembly speech Home was to lunch with Gromyko and continue the Western probe of Russian intentions.

Western diplomatic sources speculated that Gromyko is in no

Russia and U. S. Draft Plans for Consular Pact

Discussions May Lead to Increase In Their Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union are quietly negotiating a consular treaty which could chip more frost from the Cold War and ultimately lead to an increased U.S.-Soviet trade.

The talks are under way in Moscow against a background of heightened American interest in trade with the Soviet Union. The administration is considering the possibility of selling wheat to the Soviets, a transaction some feel could be the first step in freer American-Soviet trade relations.

Senate Approval Needed

The proposed treaty would enable each of the two countries to open consulates in cities outside each other's capital.

If an agreement is reached, the Senate would have to ratify the pact before it could become effective, just as in the case of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Generally the job of a consulate is to look after the interests of its citizens traveling or doing business abroad. Although embassies have taken over some of these commercial functions, an embassy's chief mission is to represent its country in dealings with a foreign power.

Ward M. Cameron, an assistant legal adviser of the State Department, is conducting the talks with the Soviet foreign ministry. He left for Moscow after the Soviet Union recommended Sept. 14 that legal experts of the two foreign offices discuss the issue.

Council Puts Key Document Up for Debate

Redefinition of Church Wins in First Vatican Test

BY BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Ecumenical Council approved for final debate today a key document to define anew the nature of the Roman Catholic Church in a modern world.

It is the schema (topic) "de ecclesia" ("about the church"). It received overwhelming endorsement in a revised, more simplified form demanded by progressive prelates. They said that in simpler form "de ecclesia" would help further Christian unity.

Criticizing the form of the schema as it was presented at the first meeting of the Ecumenical Council last year, these prelates said it must be recast in more pastoral terms.

Details Not Given

The schema deals with the manner in which the Roman Catholic Church operates. Details are secret. However it is known the House and Senate would bring raises as high as $120 a month for majors, lieutenant colonels, senior sergeants and chief petty officers.

Other increases include: captains and Navy lieutenants, $115 a month; sergeant majors and equivalent ranks, $55; corporals and their equivalent ranks, $35.

The recruits, privates, corporals and sergeants, and corresponding Navy ranks, with more than two years service would get boosts ranging from 15 to $40 a month.

In addition, men in combat areas like South Viet Nam would receive an extra $35 a month and servicemen who must leave their dependents at home would receive $30 a month more.

First Since 1958

The increase would be the first in basic military pay since 1958.

Reservists and National Guards-

Hurricane Flora Worst of Season, Forecaster Says

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Flora, labeled the most dangerous hurricane of the season, raged in the Caribbean with top winds of 110 miles an hour today. Emergency supplies were being sent to her first victim, the Robinson Crusoe island of Tobago.

Damage to Tobago and her 40,000 residents, just off the coast of Venezuela, probably ran very high, the weather bureau said. Communications were cut and one of the few reports to get out simply said damage was extensive.

"This is by far the most dangerous storm of the season, tightly knit and concentrated," said forecaster Gilbert Clark of the National Hurricane Center at Miami. "It is going to have to hit land somewhere before it can get out of the Caribbean."

Record Military Pay Boost May be Passed by Night

Increases for Servicemen To Become Effective Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest military pay boost in history is expected to become law by nightfall. If it does, the nation's service men and women would start effective today to share in the $12-billion annual increase.

Quick House approval was anticipated for the measure which cleared the Senate last Thursday. President Kennedy was expected to sign the bill as soon as it reaches the White House.

Pay boosts would average 14.4 per cent and range as high as $120 monthly.

Mainly Face Hardships

Even so, government officials said that thousands of low-ranking personnel probably would continue to seek charity or outside jobs.

The basic pay of recruits, for example, would go up only $5 a month to a new scale of $105 monthly. Counting subsistence and living quarters allowances, many of them would still end up with annual incomes of about $2,400 a year.

Most of the increases would go to officers and enlisted personnel in the middle pay grades—those at points in their careers at which they face decisions on whether to continue in the military life.

Compromise Bill

The bill is a compromise between earlier measures passed by the House and Senate. It would expand the role of Bishops in sharing the Pope's authority. A council press office communiqué said 2,231 prelates voted for the schema, 43 voted against it, 3 voted for it "but with reservations," and 24 ballots were declared void because they were not properly marked. The required majority of the 2,301 fathers present and voting was 1,151.

Only a majority was required to put the schema before the council for discussion.

Final Decisions Later

A two-thirds majority will be required for a final vote in plenary session, perhaps before the council's phase ends Dec. 4 or more likely in a session next year.

The vote at the council working session in St. Peter's Basilica gave the green light for detailed discussion of the schema, which examines anew the structure of the Roman Catholic Church and the rights and duties of the Pope, Bishops, priests and laymen.

The importance of today's vote was that the council decided to Ben Bella's government. A government officer in Tizi Ouzou, capital of the Berber area, had been revised from an original text strongly criticized at the council's first session last December as too academic and rigid in tone. An unfavorable vote today would have possibly shelved the topic.

Today's vote ended the general discussion.

Plans for New Greatness

Labor Party Looks to Wide Gains in Science

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP) — Harold Wilson today unveiled the Labor Party's master plan for making Britain great again by exploiting the world-wide revolution in science.

In a keynote speech to the annual conference of the opposition party, the Socialist leader outlined a program designed to be the main vote catcher in the 1964 national election.

Wilson called for a vast increase in Britain's scientific manpower; the massive application of science to industry; diversion of the country's research resources from defense to more productive fields, and a partnership between the state and private enterprise in pioneering new industries based on scientific discoveries and in expanding the national economy.

The program made no mention of foreign policy, which will be outlined later in the conference. A prolonged standing ovation by 2,000 delegates greeted Wilson at the end of his 50 minute speech. It was one of his biggest personal triumphs since he assumed the party leadership early this year.

There was one jarring note, however, when Frank Cousins, veteran general secretary of the giant Transport and General Workers Union, warned the leadership that workers will not stand for being thrown out of jobs by technological change.

Cousins said the experience of workers in the United States showed that advanced technological processes had created an uncontrolled employment situation.

Early Senate Action Unlikely On Tax Slash

Party Chiefs Say It Can Pass Along With Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders after consulting with President Kennedy today said that there is no valid reason why Congress can't pass both the tax and civil rights bills this session. They said every effort will be made to do so.

However, earlier reports indicated that the administration has abandoned plans to try to hurry up Senate Finance Committee action on the tax cut. This apparent reduction of chances of passing it this year.

Speakers' Comment

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said that: "No two programs are more essential to the well being of the nation."

Without the proposed $11 billion tax cut, he said, the economy cannot meet the demand for jobs posed by an exploding population.

Without enactment of the civil rights bill, he said, the nation will be diminished morally.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana echoed the speaker's sentiments. He said there is no intention to pass either the tax bill or the civil rights bill alone but to pass both before the congressional session ends.

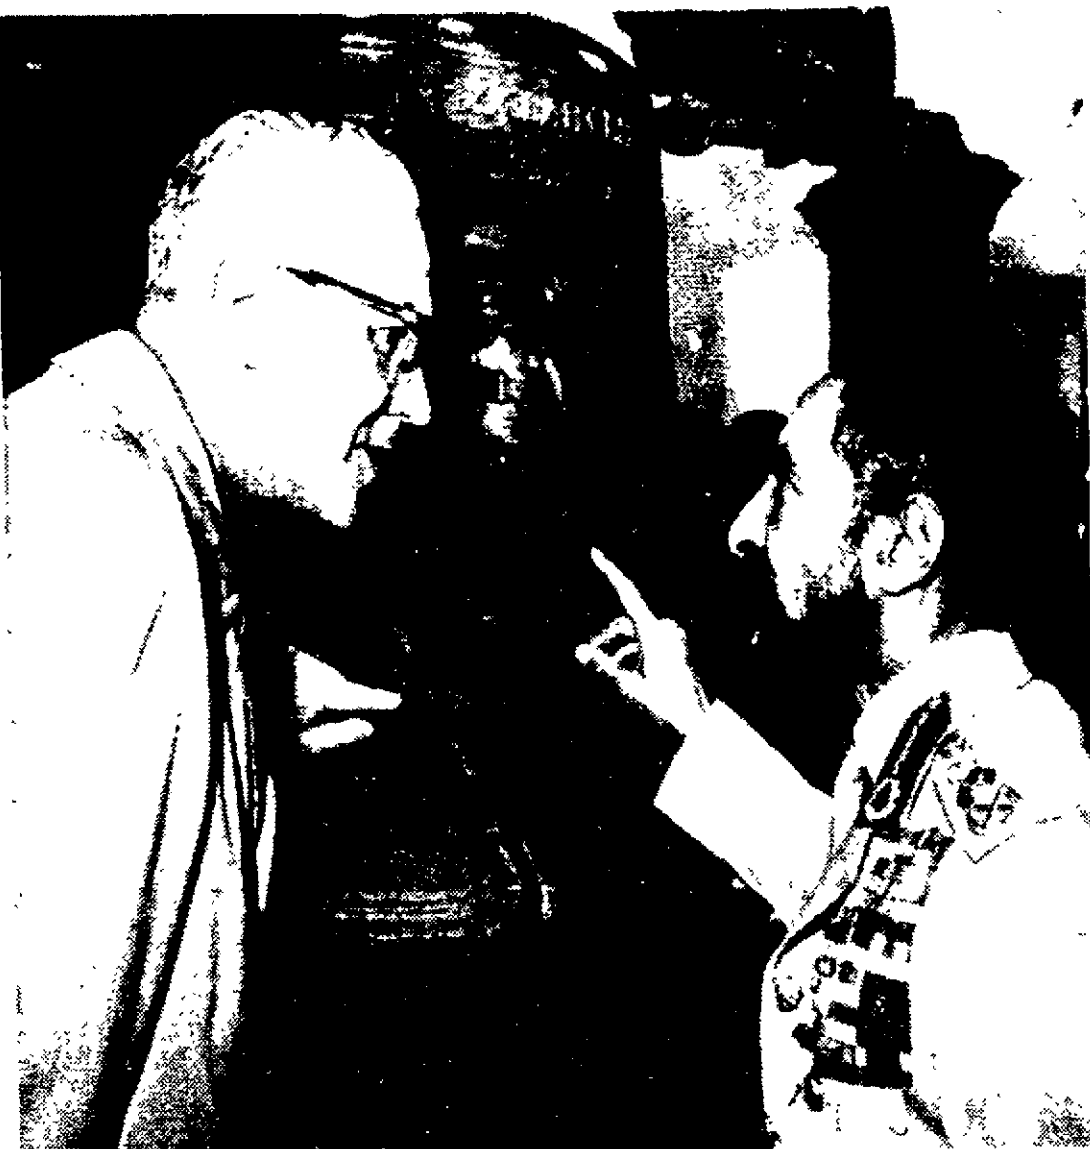

McCormack and Mansfield, flanked by other Senate and

Valachi Links Genovese With Las Vegas Gambling

Testifies Crime Syndicate Has 'Lots of Interests'

BY G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Valachi swore today that Vito Genovese, his old boss in a crime syndicate, has "lots of interests" in legalized gambling in Las Vegas, Nev.

He said he understood that Genovese has "a tie" with the gambling operations of Myer Lansky in Las Vegas. Genovese, convicted on a narcotics charge, is now in the Leavenworth federal prison. Valachi testified that Genovese nevertheless still bosses New York operations of a nationwide crime syndicate.

Questioned by Javits

Valachi, in his second day of testimony before the Senate Investigations subcommittee, was questioned by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y. Javits asked Valachi whether it was true that Genovese has "lots of interests in gambling" in Las Vegas.

"Yes, sir," said Valachi. Javits: "As far as you know, is Vito Genovese still in Las Vegas?"

Valachi: "Yes, senator," and named Lansky as one of those with whom he said Genovese is associated.

Javits: "They are associated, and it persists to this day?" Valachi, "Yes, sir."

Javits then sought without success to explore for some inside facts about the death of Abe Reles, which Valachi had mentioned in testimony Friday.

Mentions Two Deaths

The Friday hearing Valachi had sought to illustrate his contention that mobsters in jail can arrange the murder of associates on the outside.

He cited the case of two witnesses who, he said, met untimely ends while Genovese was awaiting a murder trial. He mentioned then that Reles had been "thrown out" of a hotel window and killed in New York, while waiting to testify.

Javits, quoting Valachi's testimony, asked: "Who was 'they' . . ."

Valachi clearly uncomfortable under the questioning said: "That was the rumor. Let's put it this way—whoever was in charge."

Story From "Mob"

Then, as Javits pressed for a better answer, Valachi declared: "The police threw him." But he said all he really knew about it was that "the boys" of the mob had told this story.

"You believed it?" Javits asked.

"Yes, I did."

Traveling to Athens

First Lady on 2-Week Vacation in Greece

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy leaves today for a two-week vacation in Greece that will include a cruise in the Aegean and East Mediterranean seas on a yacht owned by shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis.

The First Lady is scheduled to depart for New York after she makes her first public appearance in two months, joining her husband in welcoming Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie at Union Station.

Later in the day, Mrs. Kennedy is scheduled to fly to New York aboard the family plane Caroline to catch a commercial jet airliner tonight for the flight from New York to Athens via Rome.

She is due to arrive in the Greek capital Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Kennedy will be accompanied on the trip by her sister and brother-in-law, Prince and Princess Stanislas Radziwill. The White House said Monday they obtained use of Christiana, a 308-foot yacht, from Onassis, a friend of theirs.

Asked whether Onassis would be aboard with Mrs. Kennedy, the First Lady's press secretary, Pamela Turnure said: "Not to my knowledge."

Mrs. Kennedy's headquarters while in Greece will be the seaside villa of another shipping magnate, Marcos Nomikos, at Capri.

A Portion of the Estimated 10,000 Negro and white sign-carrying protest marchers files past the skyline of New Orleans as they head for City Hall plaza. The group, protesting the city's racial policy, held the peaceful march Monday night and heard their leaders speak in front of City Hall, demanding equal rights.

Nichols Safe Hit for $4,900, Half in Cash

Heavy Safe Taken To Field, Torn Apart by Burglars

NICHOLS—Burglars who wheeled a 500 pound floor safe from the offices of the Nichols Cooperative Association, loaded it in their car then drove to a lonely field near here where they tore it apart, have apparently made good their escape Saturday night with about $4,900 in cash and checks.

Sheriff investigators Jack Zuelzke and Russ Bowers said that about half the loot was cash contained in a small black pouch. The checks were contained in bags marked by the State Bank of Nichols.

The burglary was discovered Sunday morning by Peter Enrico, the co-op manager, who reported the incident to the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department. Employees and residents of Nichols helped investigators locate the safe which had been abandoned in a drainage ditch on the Navarino Road about one and one-half miles from the site of the burglary. Clarence Larson and Lester Able, two co-op employees, came across the empty safe about two hours after the search started.

Recovered were records, important papers and the co-op's ledger book. A safe door which had been forced by the burglars had been forced by the burglars being sent to the state crime laboratory in Madison for further examination.

Zuelzke said his investigation showed that at least two men entered the co-op building through a broken window, then used a dolly found nearby to move the safe.

The two left the building through a rear door and put the safe in a car which had been parked in the co-op parking lot. Zuelzke said the burglars apparently had trouble leaving the parking lot as tracks showed the car tires "spun" several times before the car was moved.

The car was driven into the field off the Navarino Road where the safe was dumped into the drainage ditch. The burglars then went to work and "stripped" the safe.

Cast's were taken of several footprints and tire marks found near the scene of the burglary by Zuelzke and Bowers.

Letterman's Club Elects New Officers

WAUPACA — The Letterman's club at Waupaca High School held its fall reorganizational meeting recently and elected Tom Halverson as president.

Other officers are Oscar Reyes, vice president, and John Townsend, secretary-treasurer. Coach LeRoy Haberkorn is the club's advisor.

The club is composed of all boys who have won an athletic "W". It serves as a service club for the school.

Among the club duties are attending to needs of the officials for football and basketball games and to serve in the visiting team's dressing room for any supplies that may be needed. The club also assists at track meets.

Burglars Enter Shiocton Store

Six guns were taken Thursday from the Allen Gunderson Hardware Store, Shiocton, after burglars broke a window pane to enter the store, Outagamie County Sheriff officials said Monday.

A break-in was also reported by Harold Lorge, Bear Creek, into his garage where two automobile manuals valued at $16 were taken.

"Camelot For Two" was staged Saturday afternoon for members of the Waupaca Women's Country Club and their guests. Mrs. Harold Schroeder, new president of the club, is pouring at the green bowl tea which followed. Engineers Return to Finish River Flood Damage Survey

New London Residents Asked To Determine Costs From Wolf

NEW LONDON — Three engineers' flood problem and got down to business. The Army Engineer District office in Chicago have returned to New London to complete a flood damage survey of the Wolf and Embarras Rivers.

The survey is being made for an Army Corps of Engineers report. House to house canvassing will be a continuation of work started the last week of August when two of the men were here for five days.

Making the survey are Carl W. Hessel, Larry C. Boettcher and James Przewoznik, all of Chicago. They are engineers in the planning and reports branch of the Chicago Army Engineer District. The men will remain in New London until Friday morning.

During their last trip to New London a sampling of homes in the flood area on the north side of the river and along the south bank of the Wolf River were made, but Hessel said Monday the information gathered during the sampling was insufficient. All residents are asked to be on the look-out for the men and to give them full information and cooperation. They will be carrying proper identification and credentials and will be glad to present them upon request, Hessel said.

Information sought is on damages which occurred during the April 1952 and May 1960 floods. Individuals who suffered flood losses during these years who were not interviewed when the men were here in August were urged to contact the Chamber of Commerce office and report any damage. Hessel said the people that contacted the chamber office will be interviewed and any others who wish to report damage can contact the men at the Elwood Hotel this week.

Typical damages sought would include damage to buildings, foundations, basements and contents, living quarters and contents, loss of wages, cost of living elsewhere, damage to grounds and gardens, damage to minor buildings and contents, cost of flood fighting and clean-up cost. Individuals can credit work they themselves performed in the same manner they would credit a handyman hired to do the job. Residents are urged to consider the damages as they apply to night's Lions Club meeting.

Welcome New Teachers

Hilbert Association To Hold Halloween Party for Children

HILBERT — The Hilbert Advancement Association welcomed new public school teachers and paid tribute to a departing high school principal at the group's September meeting.

Robert Sutter, who resigned to accept the position of principal at New London, told the businessmen's group that it was difficult for him to leave the community he had become a part of during his 10 years as a teacher and principal of Hilbert High School.

Sutter also lauded the faculty for its cooperation during the year. He was presented a farewell gift by the group.

Arnold Chada, Sutter's successor, also spoke briefly. He asked for continued community support of the school. The teachers, guests of the association, were introduced by Richard Werblow, assistant principal.

The group decided to again sponsor the Halloween party for the community's youngsters. It will be held at the school.

Ray Krautkramer has named chairman of the event. He will select his own committee of assistants.

Valley Businessmen May Use Brown County Airport

County Executive Plan Defended by Planning Chairman

Views of WCBA Secretary Called Illogical by C. W. Wood

C. W. Wood, chairman of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, has assailed the views of A. J. Thelen, executive secretary of the Wisconsin County Boards Association, on "modernization" of local and county governmental units.

In a letter sent to the state's 73 county boards, Wood stated Thelen's position that all local governmental problems end at the county line is "illogical, unreasonable and contrary to existing conditions."

At the annual convention of the Wisconsin County Boards Association last week in Oshkosh Thelen backed the county executive plan, but took issue with advocates of a "metropolitan super-government" to replace the local and county government program.

Not Obsolete "We should hold up our heads and not bother with the claim that it (county government) is obsolete," Thelen stated. He added, "It has gone from obsolete to indispensable."

He called for the defeat of Bill 566-S which he called the "ment commission" and "a step to take away local government."

He said commissioners would be appointed by the city, village, town and county chairman and would not have broad powers. Not one would be elected, Thelen said.

In his letter, Wood described Bill 566-S, the Multiple Purpose Service District Bill as a "petty-massive bill which would allow local units of government (counties, cities, villages and towns) to cooperatively provide district community services."

"The bill," he said, "was introduced by Sen. Gerald Lorge (Outagamie County Republican from Bear Creek) at the request of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission."

First Objection "At the original senate committee hearing, Mr. Thelen opposed the bill. His sole stated reason for opposition was that the bill lacked a limitation on the bonding power of any such commission so created. An objection which all agreed was timely."

Roger Baird, Kimberly-Clark Secretary, Cites Limitations of Winnebago, Outagamie Facilities

NEENAH — Business in Outagamie and Winnebago counties is already discussing the possibility of using neither the Outagamie nor Winnebago county airports, but is pushing for east-west schedules out of Brown County's airport, Roger Baird, secretary of Kimberly-Clark Corp., told a Neenah club luncheon Monday.

He cited the inability of both Outagamie or Winnebago counties to meet jointly and discuss the possibilities of a regional airport and the limiting factors of both present airports as the preconditions for the business action.

"Unless we act on a regional airport now," he said, "we will have two local airports which will fight for business until the CAB Civil Aeronautics Board rules out one. Neither will be able to offer a good east-west flight schedule."

He then said that industry might take its business to the Brown County Airport.

Very Serious Blow "This would be a very serious blow to the entire Fox Valley and I hope it will not happen," Baird commented.

In the next two weeks, Winnebago County must unambiguously agree to joint studies and discussion with Outagamie County on the regional airport program and Outagamie must postpone its new airport program or the optimum solution to the common needs of the two counties will never be reached, he said.

He added "the fact that no such discussions have been held is a sad commentary on the visions of the persons responsible."

Baird said that an airport in this area needs safely flexibility ports to meet changing conditions and a capacity to generate maximum traffic and hence provide good schedules.

He further explained that both the Outagamie and Winnebago airports were deficient in one or more of these requirements.

Might Be "Catastrophic" "If it (Winnebago Airport) should have... an accident... it might be catastrophic," he said. "An over-shot or under-shot of the landing or takeoff accident could put an aircraft into bridges, embankments, auto traffic on main-

East-west schedules give travelers quicker access to either coast, where normally they have to travel to Milwaukee or Chicago to look up with a trunk line. Baird explained.

He further said that operation of two airports, here was not a practical solution to the problem since it would be a great burden on taxpayers in both counties and also promote undue competition between both airports.

Fire Inspection Plans Revealed In New London

Firemen to Work In 2-Man Teams From Oct. 6-12

NEW LONDON — The New London Fire Department again will conduct house to house safety inspections during Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6-12, according to Fire Chief Al Schafer.

Firemen conducting the inspections will work in two-man teams and will be looking for faulty heating plants or wiring and trash accumulations near furnaces.

This is the third year the department has conducted the inspections, which are entirely voluntary. Chief Schafer said citizens of the city have cooperated very well with the firemen in the past.

300 Inspections

Last year, in more than 300 inspections, the largest fire hazard found was faulty smoke pipes on wood and coal furnaces. A report is made out for each inspection. Where a fire hazard is found, the home owner is advised to have repairs made as soon as possible.

This year, along with making new inspections, homes where fire hazards were found last year will be reinspected to find out if recommendations for corrections were carried out.

Along with home inspections during Fire Prevention Week, fire drills will be conducted at city schools and fire prevention literature will be distributed to industries. Literature for fire prevention on the farm is also available at the fire station, Chief Schafer said.

Three Plead Guilty to Topsy Driving

Drivers Appear Today in Outagamie, Winnebago Courts

Three drivers were fined Monday morning after pleading guilty to drunken driving charges in Outagamie and Winnebago County courts. Their driver's licenses were revoked for one year. Two of the driver's faced additional charges.

Larry M. Cummings, 23, 206 Langley Blvd., Neenah, was fined $175 and costs today in Outagamie County Court No. 2, on a plea of guilty to drunken driving.

He was arrested at 9:30 p.m. Saturday by county police in Grand Chute. He was taken to the county jail where he tested .155 on the breathalyzer.

Kenneth J. Neubeuer, 22, 196 1/2 Main St., Menasha, pleaded guilty of drunken driving today. He appeared before Winnebago County Judge James Sitter.

Charged With Theft

Neubeuer also was charged with theft of a car owned by Harold Piottter, 1906 N. Ballard Road, Appleton, while the car was parked on Grandview Avenue in Menasha. Neubeuer was arrested by Menasha police at 10 p.m. Sunday on Grandview Avenue after he had backed the Piottter car into a tree.

Judge Sitter set preliminary hearing on the car-theft charge for 2:30 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 7, and postponed sentencing on the drunken driving charge until then.

Neubeuer tested .21 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication. He was jailed in default of $500 bond.

Nathan Baird, 52, 157 N. Broadway, Green Bay, was fined $173 by Municipal Justice Oscar Jahns in Kaukauna. He was fined an additional $25 for driving a car without license.

Police arrested Baird about 10:15 p.m. Saturday after he was seen driving erratically on Lawe Street. He was taken to the police station where he tested .24 on the breathalyzer.

Board Says Bid Bonds Must be Made by Check

The City of Appleton wants bidders to send certified checks—not cold cash—as bid bonds when requested.

Although a warning was issued several weeks ago to this effect, one firm has not been complying. As a result, the board of public works has recommended "the city not accept legal tender in lieu of certified checks as bid bonds when requested."

The board wants the council to notify Van Daalwyk Construction Co. of the policy.

It seems the firm over the years had gotten into the habit of enclosing hundred dollar bills with bids instead of certified checks as requested. From now on, it will be a certified check or the bid is disqualified if the council approves the board's recommendation when it meets this week.

CLINTONVILLE — The regular meeting of the Order of Eastern Star will be held at 8 p. m. Oct. 8 at the Masonic Temple.

Merit Test Deadline Set At Waupaca

All Juniors Who Wish to Take Exam Asked to Register

WAUPACA — All 1965 graduates of Waupaca High School who wish to enter the 1964-65 National Merit Scholarship competition have been asked to register at the office of Roman Danielsen, guidance counselor.

The qualifying tests will be given in the school March 10. Deadline for registration is Nov. 19.

Students who will complete secondary school in 1965 and enter college in the same calendar year are eligible for scholarship consideration.

To receive consideration, the student must take the test when it is offered in his school. Test fees will be paid by the school for the 10 top ranking juniors. Other participating students pay a $1 fee on the day of the test. Any interested student who is unable to pay the fee should consult Danielsen at his office.

Intellectual Merit

Awards in the merit program are granted on the basis of intellectual merit, but student financial needs determine the amount of individual stipends. The stipends are renewable each year without further testing.

Danielsen explained the information gathered through the test also is valuable in career planning and selecting courses in high school and college.

After the test, each participating student receives a handbook for participants designed to help students understand their individual test results, to make comparisons with students across the country, and to use this information in making educational and vocational plans.

Supporting Agencies

In addition to the awards made by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, about 175 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts and individuals give scholarships through the merit program. A considerable number of other scholarship agencies utilize the services of the program in awarding their scholarships.

About 7,500 students have received merit scholarships since the program was started.

tee are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Harrison.

Friends' Night will be held at the Oct. 22 meeting.

How to tell a broker from a tipster

(Here are five things that give the tipster away)

When you invest, it's hard to think of anything more important than a good broker. Or of anything more dangerous than a mere tipster, whether a well-meaning friend or a stranger on the telephone, urging you to buy.

After all, it's your hard-won money. You would like to have it bring you an income from dividends on stock. Or interest on bonds. Or to have a good prospect of increasing in value over the years.

So remember these five tell-tale signs of the tipster:

Tipster: "Boy, have I got a hot one!"
Broker: A broker in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange, for example, can tell you how badly people can get burned by a tip. And how important it is to have facts. On earnings. On dividends. On the company's financial position. Armed with knowledge, you're better able to exercise careful judgment.

Tipster: "Hurry. There's only a limited amount of that stock around."

Broker: He knows that people who rush you often have something else in mind than your welfare. It's wise to take the time to be careful.

Tipster: "It's a chance in a million to make a killing."

Broker: He meets people who have shot for the moon and missed. And people who have, instead, set long-term goals to fit their circumstances and gone a long way toward achieving them.

Tipster: "You can't lose with this."

Broker: He's aware that prices go down as well as up. That a company may not continue to pay dividends or interest.

Tipster: "You'll be wise to put as much as you can into this."

Broker: He believes your living expenses come first. Then provision for emergencies. After that, you may want to invest for income or growth of your capital. Ask him about the Monthly Investment Plan through which you can invest in stock with as little as $40 every three months.

Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange have no magic key to the future. No one has. And each Member Firm has its distinctive characteristics. But all are subject to the regulations of the Exchange. And their Registered Representatives had to meet Exchange qualifications when they became Member Firm brokers. Why not see a nearby Member Firm for more information about investing.

Need for City Nurse Explained to Council

Application at New London Referred to Board of Health; Aldermen Hear Problems

NEW LONDON — Need for a city nurse was explained to the city council's committee of the whole Monday night by Miss Martha Hiegl, Waupaca County public nurse.

The city has received an application for the position, and the matter has been referred to the board of health.

It was apparent Monday night most of the council members agreed the city needs a nurse but the big question was whether or not the city would allow the school system to use the nurse.

Miss Hiegl told the council the city should have a nurse because of its population. She also said the school system had enough population for a nurse.

City Children

If the council hires a nurse for the city only, the nurse will be taking care of the children that live in the city. This will present some problems as children from outside the city also attend the schools within the city limits.

The system also has schools outside the city, which would not be covered by the nurse if she were hired for the city only.

Miss Hiegl estimated the salary of a city nurse to be about $400 per month plus expenses.

Alderman Richard Berglund, chairman of the park board, told the council that all dead elm limbs had been removed from Hatten Park. They had been contaminated with the Dutch elm disease. He also warned the council that the remaining elm tree in the park would have to be watched closely.

Comet Coach Says Harriers Much Improved

Waupaca Wins Second Small Schools Title

WAUPACA—Coach LeRoy Haberkorn said the Comet harriers looked good Saturday when they won the 1963 small schools trophy for the second consecutive year at the Shawano Invitational Cross Country meet at the Shawano Country Club.

The Waupaca speedsters collected 44 points to beat second place D. C. Everest High School of Schofield by 24 points.

John Woody, who has been leading the Waupaca team, came in fourth in the tournament, and Tom Diver was seventh. Wayne Much, Larry Belt, and Thane Mules, claimed 10th, 11th, and 12th places to complete the Waupaca scoring. Only six seconds separated Coach Haberkorn's second man from his fifth. This balance was the deciding factor.

Other Finishers

Tony Sill ran 16th and Dick Wagner came in 43rd to complete the Waupaca team's efforts.

The Comets are scheduled to run Saturday at Wausau in another invitational meet. There will be no class divisions but both A and B teams will be running.

The Waupaca runners will be pitted against Wausau, Rhineland, Merrill, Antigo, Stevens Point, Wisconsin Rapids, Shawano, Marshfield, Eau Claire Memorial, Eau Claire North, D. C. Everest, Clintonville and Winter.

New London's First stop lights at the intersection of S. Pearl Street and Wolf River Avenue are expected to go into operation either today or Wednesday. The lights will control traffic on U. S. 45 and Wolf River Avenue, a truck route. Art Hanson, left, and Ernest Omernik, members of the city utility department, are installing one of the lights. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Chilton police said the Hansen vehicle skidded into the intersection on wet pavement during a heavy downpour. It rammed the side of the Kees vehicle with an estimated $500 damage resulting, police said.

Reynolds' Political Fortunes

The impromptu remark by Governor Reynolds at a press conference that he would not run for re-election for governor if he felt it would hurt President Kennedy's chances in the state next fall is bound to arouse interesting political speculation.

Mr. Reynolds has always been quite candid about his political fortunes. Not long before the 1963 election he rated himself an underdog to defeat Phillip Kuehn. Recently he has remarked informally that the worst thing that could happen to him was that he would be defeated for re-election and he'd "have to go back to his law practice in Green Bay."

And he added: "And what's so bad about Green Bay?"

His recent remark undoubtedly was emotional in origin. He mentioned that he had begun thinking about his political popularity after he was booed when he attended the Warren Spahn Day ceremonies at Milwaukee County Stadium. Last weekend he was completely ignored while attending the reunion of his high school class at Green Bay. Placed at the speaker's table with his wife at the banquet, he was not even introduced by the toastmaster.

There are 13 months before the 1964 election, however, and much could happen to the political climate in Wisconsin in that time. Governor Reynolds has been trying out several new issues which he hopes may divert the electorate from the tax debate. He may even be growing a little desperate to this end if his verbal exchanges with Attorney General Thompson are any indication. "My efforts as governor go for naught because I'm constantly harassed by the attorney general's office," he said. "If we're going to start handing out favors around here, I'll see that my friends are taken care of."

Such a statement is bound to provide fodder for Republican counterattack. "What has he been doing with appointments like Zeidler, Lucey and Adamany?" they may well ask.

The Governor may also hope to build an image of an underdog in succeeding months and his remarks about not running could be a start in this direction.

From a practical standpoint it would be most unusual for the Governor not to seek re-election. He has many built-in campaign advantages over any other Democrat. From three successive campaigns for state office he has established his name in the minds of the voters. He can utilize the facilities of the Governor's office for publicizing his campaign. He is in an advantageous position to command party support.

There are no other Democratic candidates as well known state-wide. Former state chairman Patrick Lucey has been known to harbor gubernatorial ambitions and former Lieutenant Governor David Carley might feel the same way. But Lucey has never been elected to public office and Carley lost in the last election to Lieut. Gov. Jack Olson when Reynolds was beating Kuehn.

It is Reynolds' obvious precarious position which has produced such enthusiasm in state Republican circles for the coming campaign. The next election is more than a year away but already it promises to hold absorbing interest from here on in.

4,270 Americans Die!

More people were killed in traffic accidents during the month of August than in any previous month in history. A total of 4,270 persons lost their lives on the highways in the United States.

Why is it these staggering figures make little impression on the driving public? Can you imagine the popular reaction if the headlines read: 4,270 Americans Killed by Russian Bomb! or Liners Queen Mary, United States Collide; 4,270 Drown!

The Post-Crescent recently suggested a re-evaluation of traffic safety campaigns with particular emphasis on the psychological motivations of drivers who cause accidents

There must be some way to convince everyone driving an automobile that he or she is handling a terrible weapon of death.

Sukarno Cuts Off His Nose

President Sukarno of Indonesia either has a massive arrogance or he is just plain stupid. His recent actions regarding the establishment of the Malaysia federation may cut Indonesia's economic throat.

Indonesia has been in serious financial straits for some time. Expenditures for the military and a vague understanding of economics has meant a continued inflation, a shortage of consumer goods and high prices. The United States, convinced for some reason that Indonesia would improve its efforts for private investment and sound fiscal policies, led a move to get other Western nations to give stopgap credits to Indonesia to aid an economic stabilization program. Up to $40 million had been pledged. The International Monetary Fund had extended $50 million in stand-by credit with the understanding that there would be some sense shown in financial dealings.

But then Sukarno began his campaign of opposition to Malaysia. He managed to get agreement from the Malayan prime minister for a United Nations investigation of the referendum which had determined that North Borneo and Sarawak would be part of the federation. He pledged to abide by the U.N. decision, of course, all the while sending in teams of trouble makers to foment rebellion. But in spite of his agitation the U.N. teams reported that they found no evidence of anything except well conducted elections and it was their opinion that the colonies did indeed want to be part of Malaysia.

So Sukarno resorted to riots. The British Embassy in Jakarta was burned. Threats of war were made. After all, this had worked in getting control of West New Guinea. Most foolish of all, the Indonesian government cut off trade with Malaysia which was proclaimed on Sept. 16 in spite of Sukarno's rantings.

The offers of stopgap credit from European nations have been withdrawn. The United States says it will hold up any new economic aid programs for Indonesia although it will continue to fulfill its present assistance which amounts to about $80 million. The International Monetary Fund will not extend the remaining $30 million it had offered. All in all, United States officials estimate that Indonesia may lose as much as $300 million.

The changes are not entirely because of the refusal of Sukarno to honor his own pledge and his invasion of sovereignty of another nation. Nor is it only because of the threat of war. But in cutting off Malaysia from trade, Indonesia slammed the door on one of its primary markets for oil, rubber and tin. And as consumer goods in Indonesia become more scarce, costs will rise and there will be a headlong rush toward disastrous inflation.

All of this will be tough on the Indonesian people. But if they prefer the rifle-rattling and empty-headed symbol they have in office, they will have to suffer for his foolishness. This time even the Soviet Union is unlikely to be of much help.

Call for Real Union Session

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Oct. 8, 1863.

It will be noticed elsewhere that Hon. James R. Doolittle, U. S. Senator, will address a Union meeting in Appleton, on the 21st inst.

We would suggest that the meeting be in the afternoon and evening, too, and that other speakers be secured, and that we have a rousing Union gathering after the fashion of the campaign of 1860.

There are those in the City and the County who need a little more argument to convince them it is their duty to desert from the ranks of King Copperhead and report for duty on the side of the Union.

There are also good sound Union men who need to be aroused from their inaction. Let all such be induced to attend the meeting addressed by our Senator. The Union cause will be greatly advanced thereby.

The probability of war loomed closer as Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak minister to London, made public his government's note quietly refusing to accept Adolf Hitler's "final" terms for cutting up Czechoslovakia as the price for European peace. Prime Minister Chamberlain that night in a British broadcast, declared that Britain could not involve its empire in war however much it sympathized with a small nation.

The U. S. Embassy at London requested all Americans to return home from Europe if possible and two American warships were speeding toward Europe for the purpose of returning refugees. Hitler's answer to Roosevelt's plea for peace was that the matter "is now solely in the hands of the Czechoslovak government and not in the hands of the German government to decide whether it desires peace or war."

Allen-Scott Report
Justice Goldberg Considered As Running Mate for Kennedy

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

Those frequent private meetings of President Kennedy and Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg are far more political than social.

Intimates of Justice Goldberg say that these backstage White House talks involve the exciting possibility that the former Cabinet member might be tapped as the President's running mate in 1964.

While no firm offer or commitment was given Justice Goldberg in these conversations, President Kennedy discussed frankly two political developments that would cause him to look for a new running mate.

One development would be a personal decision by Vice President Lyndon Johnson to boost his political fortunes for 1968 in another government or private role and not seek re-election with President Kennedy.

The other development would involve a situation where public opinion polls would indicate a close election and that Johnson's presence on the ticket would not increase the President's chances of winning.

According to these sources, the President assured Goldberg he would seriously consider him as a possible running-mate if either of these political situations developed. Justice Goldberg's reply was a simple one — he is ready to do whatever the President wants.

THE NEW STRATEGY — A native of Chicago, Justice Goldberg's presence on the 1964 Democratic ticket would fit perfectly into the new political strategy being hammered out at the party's secret deliberations.

As approved by President Kennedy, this strategy calls for major Democratic efforts to increase the party's vote in all the northern industrial areas to offset expected Republican gains in the South.

As a former Secretary of Labor and general counsel of the AFL-CIO, Goldberg has strong ties and is extremely popular with labor and Jewish organizations in all major cities.

Whether Vice President Lyndon Johnson would ever consider stepping aside for another candidate or President Kennedy would risk a party-splitting fight to ask him to step down is highly debatable. Aides of Johnson insist that the Vice President will be on the 1964 ticket regardless of what developments occur before the Democratic Convention opens in Atlantic City in August.

THE GOP STRATEGY — Women will have more official say at the 1964 Republican convention than at any previous one.

That's the report that Mrs. Clare B. Williams, assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee, is circulating among GOP women workers.

She reveals that rules governing the '64 convention put one woman delegate from each state on the four main committees that carry on the convention's work: Platform, Rules, Credentials, and Permanent Organizations.

According to Mrs. Williams, if the GOP women exert themselves their new committee assignments will give them considerable influence on the selection of the 1964 GOP nominees.

Supporters of Senator Goldwater believe that this rules change, made in 1960, will help their candidate when delegates meet next July in San Francisco.

Pakistani Press Asserts Rights, Wins First Battle

From Baltimore Sun

Sometimes, in some places, one reason the press is less free than it might be is that it fails to realize its power. In Pakistan the press, trying to feel out and establish its place in a new country, and a country with mountains of problems, has in the past not realized how much it could do if it wanted to, as a constructive critic of a political society which was itself feeling its way, seeking a basis for a national future. The Pakistani press, I say, was too timid to get angry, except at other countries.

It got angry when the governors of East and West Pakistan, who derive their power through appointment by the central government, promulgated a list of new regulations which would leave the press with but the thinnest appearance of any freedom. And the press, at last rose up, furious — and in the face of that President Ayub has now suspended the regulations for a period of one month, after which we shall see. The Pakistani press, having once tasted its rightful power, is not likely to subside a month from now into meek subservience.

Meany is warning that "the money and manpower of big industry and the right wing will be pumped into the 1964 election in unprecedented amounts to elect conservative candidates." In his address to labor's Big Cities conference, Meany urged labor to offset the conservative drive by using "our natural advantage in the big cities and their suburbs. We must register record numbers in these cities to win in 1964."

President and Mrs. Kennedy are reported ready to sell the week-end retreat they built on top of Rattlesnake Mountain at Atoke, Va. Inquiries at the White House as to when they plan to occupy the $100,000 house bring "no comment" . . . The prospective retirement of two justices on the Supreme Court, William O. Douglas and Hugo Black, will give President Kennedy a chance next year to reshape the court . . . A recent presidential appointment to NATO is involved in a divorce in Holland that will soon hit the headlines. He has asked the State Department for permission to marry his foreign maid . . . One of the main jobs being assigned Democratic women's groups for the 1964 campaign will be to raise money for TV appearances by the President. The women will launch their fund-raising activities with a meeting in Washington in April. . . . The explosive race issue could split the eight-year-old AFL-CIO in two at its national convention in New York later this year. United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther is already passing the word that he plans to lead an all-out fight for an "anti-discrimination" amendment to the AFL-CIO constitution that has enforcement powers. . . . Senator Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., has ordered the staff of his Senate Commerce Committee to draft legislation to deal with protracted newspaper shut-downs. Last winter's New York City strike, which lasted 114 days, is responsible for Magnuson's request.

Wisconsin Report
Presidential Election Should Not Overshadow Vote for State Offices

BY JOHN E. HOUGH

MADISON — During the next thirteen months presidential candidates will dominate the headlines in Wisconsin, primarily because of our early, nationally significant, presidential primary election. National press, radio and TV will be focusing on Wisconsin voter trends. Following the primary the commitments of Wisconsin delegates to the national convention will make news. Unfortunately our alphabetical position near the end of the convention roll call usually means that the nomination is decided before Wisconsin delegates cast their ballots.

As the presidential campaign fever mounts, it will do well to book. As sessions have grown longer and longer, it has become increasingly difficult for the man in business or a professional to make the sacrifices necessary to continue in office. At the close of the recent legislative session, many able legislators expressed doubt that they would seek another term. Others have already indicated plans to try for higher elective office or to return to their business or professional life. If all who have indicated the possibility of retirement should do so, a record number of vacancies will confront the voters in 1964.

Certainly the next legislature will face even greater demands for state spending than those of 1963. The tax proposals presented in an attempt to solve revenue problems grow even more complex. Can anyone who expects to make Wisconsin his residence and place of business during the next four years afford to take no part in the selection of the legislature?

KEEP IN TOUCH

One who recognizes the vital importance of the work of the legislature may wonder, "What can I do?" A visit with your assemblyman and senator should provide an indication as to whether they are likely to seek re-election. If they are undecided, expressions of support are likely to contribute to their decision. If they will not seek re-election, early action will be needed to find a qualified replacement. The voter who may not have been active in his local party organization in the past is likely to find that his party leaders will welcome his interest in seeking and actively working for an able candidate.

While the circumstances of election vary with the political make-up of each district, the stature of the candidate is usually a major factor. A citizen who has won a reputation as a community leader outside the political arena has often become a successful candidate. Many of our ablest legislators won their first election in spite of political inexperience and lack of those campaigning talents which the public tends to associate with the skilled politician.

The kind of Wisconsin in which our children live and vote in the future will be determined in part by the performance of the legislators and the governor elected next year. The record shows that when enough interested voters support and elect able candidates, the whole state benefits.

Strictly Personal
Do We Need Faster Commercial Aircraft?

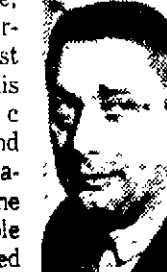

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The only disturbing aspect of an otherwise fine summer in the country was a new and menacing noise, heard overhead almost daily. This was sonic boom, and both the natives and the city people who had fled from such reminders of "civilization" were grievously upset by it.

Our sonic boom was created by fighter planes from an air base some 200 miles away. This fearsome noise, I suppose, was bearable to those who believe that such maneuvers are a necessary part of America's defense program.

But now the government is promising to give us "SST," which stands for "supersonic transport" in the commercial field. To produce even a prototype of such a plane, with speed up to 2,000 miles an hour, will cost $1 billion. Nearly all the money, of course, will come from the taxpayers.

Do we want or need such a project — except for the dubious reason of "international prestige"? Noise has already reached a highly objectionable level around airports; and supersonic planes can rattle and break windows for a 50-mile strip across the flight path. Why race into such a program until technology has at least found a way to eliminate or greatly diminish the sonic boom?

Besides, nobody in the public sector needs to go that fast. At present jet speeds of 600 mph, our bodies already arrive before our minds and spirits have caught up with them. Time spent in the air, in fact, is only a portion of the vexing travel schedule that faces most airplane passengers.

The great transport need today is for a reduction in terminal delays, in faster access to airports, in simplifying the cumbersome process of parking, checking in, walking to gates, transferring from one line to another, expediting baggage pickup, and most of all, spending appropriate sums for research in how to beat the weather.

Everyone has remarked that we can now cross the continent in four hours, but it takes longer to drive or taxi across midtown Manhattan than it did by horse in 1910. There seems little point in doubling or trebling our air speed — especially if accompanied by sonic boom — as long as ground traffic becomes increasingly chaotic.

The majority of Americans, it may surprise us, have never flown in an airplane. They cannot afford it, or they are afraid of it, or they prefer to make trips by auto. "Supersonic transport" would benefit only a few, and would not necessarily attract new passengers. Our national prestige, and our morale, would be far better served if we learned to cope on the ground, with safety, comfort and speed.

Charlie Reaches Journey's End One Step Ahead of Dame Autumn

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent News Service

STURGEON BAY—I have come to the end of the long journey for a tryst with My Lady Autumn, but she is not here.

I marched my way out of Chilton last week to stalk the pretty lady and I have wandered a total of 131 miles across five Wisconsin counties — Calumet, Brown, Manitowoc, Kewaunee and Door, but Autumn is not yet here in full dress.

Oh, the maples are almost in scarlet, the ashes in yellow, the hazels in purple, the hickories in browns; and the elms are dropping their leaves.

The freezes now are freshening. Queen Anne's Lace is turning into ruffles, the Jewel flower has turned its blossoms into explosive seeds, the woolly bear caterpillars are hurrying to cocoon, the black-birds are gathered in windy congress, the red-legged grasshoppers are taking their last long hops, the oaks are burning red and their fruits have all but left the trees. But Autumn is not quite in full dress.

I looked for her today after bid. Then I passed on, casually and ding goodbye to my Forestville happily under a sky of dappled clouds and bright sun.

Clever Sign

On County Trunk H, I smiled at the sign on the lawn at the William Kosticka farm. It read, "Lumbago Acres, with a creek in the back."

With the invitation of the Rev. R. Thomas Peters, I stopped for breakfast at the Holy Name of Mary Church and for a talk of the back.

I watched the reddening maples burn bright spots among the

Pianist's New Show Opens At Green Bay

BY JACK RUDOLPH
Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY—Roger Williams and Green Bay opened a brand new entertainment season together Monday night. Variety Theatre presented the popular pianist and his company as the initial offering of the city's 1963-64 season before a nearly full house at the Bay Theater. Williams responded with the first performance of a new show, which will spend the next several weeks touring the Midwest.

The evening can be scored as a thoroughly satisfactory success. The show is no block-buster but it is cheerful, clean and fresh. It contains a little gentle humor, plenty of Williams' familiar and easy lyricism and enough of the current percussiveness to satisfy just about everybody.

The show has faults, but they are those of a new routine going on for the first time and they'll smooth out with performance. On the other hand, its charms are those of the suave, melodic technique that has made Roger Williams one of the outstanding recording artists of all time, backed by a carefully selected and talented ensemble.

The format was completely different from his appearance in the area four years ago. Gone is the "boy next door" spirit, replaced by a polished showmanship much closer to that of a plush night club but without the current "sick" humor or anything suggestive.

Featured in the ensemble is a fine harpist, Gloria Tracy. Her husband Jerry is likewise a versatile percussionist who plays everything but hop scotch. Bill Schneider is equally effective on the drums, while Griff Howe and Rodger Nichols round out the group nicely.

Totals 197 Miles

As I approached the outskirts of Sturgeon Bay, which is my "journey's end," I reckoned my total mileage at 197 miles, although 66 of them do not count for they were made in casual strolling around towns and villages, farms, stores, factories during periods when I was not precisely en route.

The kind people of Sturgeon Bay turned out with a undeserved welcome for this sunburned traveler, stained, untidy man and a delegation greeted and toured me.

Fine Delegation

This was city councilman Stanley Hein, industrialist Fred Peterson, Kenneth West of the Elks Club, Police Chief Roman Londo and an assortment of police officers.

I ate more than my share of beautiful, red McIntosh apples. (unpublished this time) at Badger State Appleton Corp. Dan Kurtz apple-wise manager of the corporation, told me that Door County apples, as elsewhere in Wisconsin, are slightly smaller this year, but that the flavor is superb and the apples are beautiful.

Badger State Apple Corp. is a cooperatively-run system of grading apples (for size, color, excellence) for the control of quality.

Magnificent Gift

I toured the magnificent indoor swimming pool (75 by 42 feet) and building (100 by 100 feet), which Fred Peterson is presenting as a gift to his city. It is one of the largest and finest swimming pools in Wisconsin. It will cost about $200,000 and, when finished this November, it will be called the Fred Peterson Memorial Swimming Pool in honor of the donor.

I visited the newly rising Door County Memorial Hospital, which is being built by a public subscription fund of $1,200,000.

A tour of the old, interesting city was necessary, too, for Sturgeon Bay is proud of itself and its today as well as its yesterdays.

At last I was released to join old friends, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Tong, who are not too proud to invite a dusty, road-stained visitor into Colonial Inn, their lovely, sedate, old home, which was built in 1870 and is too elegant for a raggamuffin like me.

Bright Evening

My evening was brightened by visits from Mayor Frank Tachovsky, former Mayor Stanley Greene and a tiny lady, Diane Tong, who is a fine teller of jokes: "Elephants don't ride tricycles because they don't have thumbs for pushing them little bells."

Here and there in Sturgeon Bay, the trees are gaudy and beautiful in their October colors, but Autumn is not really and truly here as yet. Perhaps in three more days My Lady Autumn will be here in full glory.

Sometimes a lady needs time for getting dressed.

Lawrence Says GOP Strategy For '64 Race Needs Revising

Party Busy Fighting Among Itself Instead Of Kennedy Regime

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There's something baffling, to say the least, in various conversations one hears nowadays in political circles concerning Senator Barry Goldwater and other possible candidates for the Republican presidential nomination. It's the oft-repeated question "Can he win?"

The query somehow reflects a perhaps unintentional appraisal of the actual strength of President Kennedy among the voters. Even the way the question is asked indicates, as a rule, a feeling that the White House incumbent will be a hard man to beat. In fact, there are some Republican observers who privately express doubts whether Mr. Kennedy can really be defeated.

A few months ago this was a rather prevailing view. But, in recent weeks, the tide has seemed to turn, and there are many who now are convinced that Mr. Kennedy can be beaten for re-election.

As for the nomination, a poll just published by "U.S. News & World Report" shows that 71 per cent of the Chairmen of Republican State Committees who replied to its survey favor Senator Goldwater and that 56 per cent of the Republican National Committee men who replied also favor him. Among the Republican Senators and Representatives, 56 per cent of the replies were for Mr. Goldwater.

The Neutral

Over the weekend, former President Eisenhower was quoted as having said that Senator Goldwater's views were "unclear" to him, and this was interpreted by some observers not as a statement of tactical neutrality but as a symptom of disapproval. Such comments give rise to further discussions as to whether the Eisenhower support is essential for the victory of a candidate like the support of Richard Nixon didn't prevent a Kennedy victory in 1960 nor would the endorsement of Senator Goldwater by former President Eisenhower today insure the Arizona Senator's victory either at the Republican national convention or at the polls in November 1964.

There seems to be too much emphasis nowadays on personalities and labels and not enough on issues. Yet basic issues count for more than personalities. This writer, for example, never accepted the thesis that General Eisenhower's personal popularity won him either the nomination or the election. He won the nomination in 1952 because a majority of the convention delegates believed the oft-repeated statement that "Taft couldn't win." The general's position on major issues was relatively unknown at the time to most of the delegates. The election itself that year was won because the country disapproved of the Truman administration on the three issues of "Korea, Communism and corruption," and the Republican party united behind Mr. Eisenhower.

No Change Psychology

In 1956, however, a situation existed that is somewhat parallel to what may happen in 1964. The Democrats seven years ago had not made an impressive case against the Eisenhower administration, and the country, moreover, was in a state of relative contentment on the economic side. This always produces a "no change" psychology.

Today, the Republican speakers have not yet made a convincing case against the Kennedy administration. They have spent so much of their time arguing about "Conservatives" and "Liberals," "radical right" and "radical left," that they have not gotten across to the country just why there should be a change of administration in Washington.

Senator Goldwater has probably said more against the Kennedy administration than any of the other men mentioned for the Republican nomination. But he has been promptly assailed not so much by Democrats as by Republicans who would like somebody else nominated. All this has furnished a list for the Democratic party's mill.

What arguments have the Republicans neglected? Government funds, for instance, are being used more for political purposes today than perhaps in any other period in recent history, but the Republicans have not made a crusade on this issue. The alliance between the administration and the labor unions has been conspicuous and has had its effect on the economic life of the country, resulting in costly strikes or wage rises that are higher than can be absorbed by increased prices. The Republican speakers have not tackled the issue with any vigor, nor have they revealed the manner in which labor-union members finance campaigns and

Foreign Policy

International policies are a risky basis for political campaigns because conditions can change overnight. The chances are that, in the next campaign, the Republicans, while taking advantage of every opportunity to attack the handling of the Cuban problem and other aspects of foreign policy, will really try to win the election on the basis of domestic issues, particularly on the economic side.

If the voters are in the mood for a change of administration, the personality of a candidate or, for instance, his so-called pulling power on television will be secondary. The verdict will hinge on whether the country has decided that almost anyone nominated by the Republican party would be better than the incumbent. The Republicans, in short, have not yet begun to make their case for a change of administration.

Roundabout Way but She Gets Money Back

SHEBOYGAN (AP)--Mrs. Julia Schmidt, 60, of Milwaukee has her missing $900 back because of an honest Sheboygan woman and an Associated Press story.

On her way to visit a son, Herbert, at Sheboygan Saturday, Mrs. Schmidt lost the money which had been wrapped in a stocking. The little package was found on a Sheboygan street by Mrs. Nettie Schultz, 67, who turned it over to police. No one in Sheboygan had reported the money missing.

After hearing a news account on radio station WHBL, Sheboygan, of the missing money, Police Capt. Victor Keitel contacted The Associated Press in Milwaukee and was told Mrs. Schmidt had lost it.

Schmidt said he would reward Mrs. Schultz with $50. His mother said she would keep her money in a bank henceforth.

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

DO MOST PEOPLE WANT FREEDOM?

YES ☐ NO ☐

No. This is hard to believe because most people fight so hard on behalf of what they call "freedom." But what they mean by this is not personal freedom, but freedom from tyrannies with which they cannot identify themselves. Napoleon was far less tyrannical to the Spanish people than were their own kings. But he was French, and so the Spanish people fought hard to establish a worse tyranny with which they could feel identified.

Choose your vocation before leaving high school.

Good --

Bad --

Bad, in many instances. Young people rarely have any real understanding of what a vocation involves. They build up a romanticized conception of it, often without much relationship to their own interests and abilities. They may know little of its rewards, and often less of its headaches. Only after they are in it, do they find out what it is really like. Even this may not help much because they do not know what else they would like better. Experience in summer jobs of apprenticeship is recommended.

Words Often Misused: Do not say, "He reaped some good benefits from his experiences." Omit "good," since all benefits are good.

Often Mispronounced: Tertiary. Pronounce tur-shi-ai-ri, a cent first syllable.

Often Misspelled: Supercilious; observe the "cil," not "sil."

Synonyms: Fragile, breakable, brittle, delicate, frail, infirm, slight, tender, weak.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: multipresence; the power of being present in two or more places at once. "We should always be conscious of the multipresence of God."

Jingo Finds Exciting 'Philadelphia Story'

Misses Out on New Plays, but Sees Real Drama in City's Urban Renewal Plans

BY JINGO

These words should carry the dateline of Philadelphia, but it wouldn't fool anyone about where the words were written. However, the dateline would certainly be accurate as far as the spirit was concerned.

Jingo recently returned from a flying trip to the City of Brotherly Love and is filled with "The Philadelphia Story."

Despite an urgent desire to catch some of the new season's shows on their way to Broadway, he was unable to break into the line. It seems that, contrary to old traditions, a try-out show of any advance notoriety comes into Philadelphia with a gratifying sold-out house awaiting it.

Meredith Willson's musical based on "The Miracle on 34th Street" called "Here's Love" was sold-out in Philadelphia before it opened in Washington, two cities in advance. The Louis Nizer book's adaptation "A Matter of Libel" opened with similar circumstances.

It may very well be sour grapes, but Jingo doesn't think this situation can do very much toward helping a new production discover its weak points.

Boston Try-Out
Jingo can remember the frightening acid test that out-of-town try-outs used to be. Once, in Boston, Jingo sat in an audience of 75 people on the last day of a try-out run. With no sold-out city, he breathed down the neck of the producers and they took two years doctoring their show before they let the public look at it again.

The recent Broadway seasons have followed a pattern of tremendous promise and little else. Maybe the breathless try-out towns could be the reason.

Although Jingo failed to find a seat on Philadelphia's Rialto, he found a front row seat at a most exciting drama—a real drama, not a real-life one.

Real 'Philadelphia Story'
The streets of Philadelphia and under them are the sets for this drama and, in a way, they are the characters as well.
The drama is the exciting realization of a courageous plan of urban renewal which is changing a city, begrimed by a foolishly placed railroad yard and crumbling into a modern metropolis, coping with the present on terms that will last into the future.

William Penn bequeathed a sense of beauty and responsibility to his city. The bequest was forgotten in the hurly-burly of growth, but at the critical, last-minute it was remembered and the city was moved to action. The plot-line alone is a winner. The production is breath-taking. Who needs the theater in Philadelphia?

Premiere of Movie 'Mary, Mary' Set for Radio City Music Hall
"Mary, Mary," the Warner Bros. motion picture in Technicolor based on the smash-hit Broadway stage comedy, will have its world premiere as the next attraction at Radio City Music Hall.

Debbie Reynolds stars in the title role of "Mary, Mary," with Barry Nelson, Michael Rennie, Diane McBain and Hiram Sherman.

The Mervyn LeRoy motion picture production is taken from the comedy by Jean Kerr, author of "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" and "The Snake Has All the Lines." Mrs. Kerr's play, which opened at the Helen Hayes Theatre in New York March 8, 1961, and is still playing there, is the first non-musical in more than a decade to pass the 1,000-performance mark.

The opening of "Mary, Mary" at the Music Hall will mark the first time that motion picture audiences will be able to see a film based on a play that still is being presented on the Broadway stage.

Vivien Leigh, Star Of 'Tovarich,' Goes Home on Stretcher

LONDON (AP)—Actress Vivien Leigh returned home on a stretcher from New York today and an airline official said she was suffering from nervous exhaustion.

The 49-year-old actress is starring in the Broadway musical "Tovarich," which has closed for a week while it moves to a new theater. Miss Leigh had said earlier she would spend the week in Britain.

With the Hollywood temperature well over 100 on an outside set, comedian Dick Van Dyke decided to beat the heat with an assist from actress Jerri Markwell. It happened on the set of "What a Way to Go," with the script calling for fisherman Van Dyke to fall in a mud puddle. He did — then decided he'd just continue sitting there while Miss Markwell used the hose to wash him off and cool him off at the same time. (AP Wirephoto)

Anthology, Astronauts Star on TV

BY TV SCOUT

8-9 (Channel 4-5) — The Richard Boone Show has a first tele-play by a fine young writer named Paul Lucey. It's called "All the Comforts of Home," and it's a beautiful fold play about decent, dignified mountain people. Boone gives a sensitive performance as Luke. Jeanette Nolan is ment. Thrift is more than just his sister, Ford Rainey her husband and Bethel Leslie the plan — it's spending carefully "snake woman" of gossip who gives Luke a purpose.

9-10 (Channel 4-5) — If you're a space age buff, you'll have a fine time watching Apollo: A Journey to the Moon. It's Jules Verne stuff, but it's all happening today. The show opens with a projection of the manned moon shot, shown through still pictures. Then, with all 16 astronauts as guides through the various phases of the $20 to $40 billion dollar project, we visit factories and testing labs across the country and see the project become a reality. (Color)

6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5) — A teacher's problem handling the delicate matter of a student with a crush is compounded on this good Mr. Novak teleplay by the fact that the student is a blind girl. Kim Darby, who makes an auspicious television debut, causes gossip when a student sees her feeling Novak's (James Franciscus) face.

7:30-8 (Channel 11) Parker (Tim Conway) begins to doubt his courage in a very funny McHale's Navy episode. So McHale (Ernest Borgnine) bolsters his courage with a "gutsy" as gutsy does" talk that inspires Parker so much he decides to capture a German U-boat cruising the Pacific.

8-9 (Channel 11) — Jose Ferrer portrays a once-great escape artist who has sunk to shilling for his own swami act in a broken down val. Along comes Jack Palance and his Greatest Show on Earth in need of a closing act.

9-10 (Channel 11) — Barry Morse, The Fugitive's tracker, comes close to his quarry in a suspenseful episode, after David Janssen leaves his fingerprints on a class in a bar where he becomes embroiled in a brawl.

9-10 (Channel 2) — Eydie Gorme and the Smothers Brothers join The Garry Moore Show, along with Dorothy Loudon. The major skit pokes fun at people who let television quiz shows affect their lives, detective stories in which the hero must be philosopher, sociologist and psychiatrist, and the nobility of television nurses.

Woman President in New Movie Comedy
Polly Bergen plays the first woman president of the United States and Harry Holcombe the vice president in the motion picture comedy, "Kisses for My President."

The Warner Bros. production also stars Fred MacMurray and Arlene Dahl.

Living Within Income

Children Should be Taught Art of Money Management

BY MARY FEELEY

Consultant in Money Management

In this complicated era of juggling the dollar in order to have a dime, parents must teach their young the art of money management. Thrift is more than just hanging onto a dollar without a band and Bethel Leslie the plan — it's spending carefully through good management that proves profitable. The ideal concept is to try and make money provide what you want today and tomorrow.

Two mothers write today to ask how they can put across the idea of money management to their children while the time is ripe.

Dear Miss Feeley:
My 15-year-old son has a paper route and makes between $30 and $40 a month. He pays his sister 50 cents each month to make out his receipts. And he's paying $8.17 a month on his TV. The balance he's "fluffing off!"

He has a savings account, but he doesn't contribute to it monthly. Last year he bought most of his clothes; however, he has a crush is compounded on this year. We pay for his toiletries, his hair cuts, and give him milk money each day (he takes his lunch to school). So you see he has more than enough spending money. He doesn't have a girl so he's spending his money on himself, mostly on in-between meal snacks.

I think he should be learning now how to live within his income. I would appreciate your recommending a budget for him.

Mrs. A. M. C., San Diego

Dear Mrs. C.:
Your son is obviously suffering from boredom — brought on by repetition. Doing the same things with his money month after month has become tedious. Saving and buying his own clothes probably were stimulating and exciting at first. But now the kick has worn off. In a 15-year-old this attitude is as natural as breathing. So I wouldn't be too concerned if I were you. You can help him make a fresh start by taking him to his quarry in a simple approach.

Don't insist on an inflexible budget for the moment. In the first place, collections from his paper route are probably not exactly even every month. So asking him to stick to rigid figures that account for every penny won't be realistic and will only frustrate him. Instead, set a few simple rules and try to accomplish the rest with philosophy. First he should pay his obligations — the TV payments and his sister's "wages". He should then pay for his hair cuts and, of course, "Kisses for My President."

The Warner Bros. production also stars Fred MacMurray and Arlene Dahl.

C. T. T., Brooklyn

Dear Mrs. T.:
Maybe you've already set her a good example — in reverse! Children sometimes do learn from their parents' mistakes, and isn't it a good thing! Anyway, she will know your advice comes from the heart and will be that much more inclined to heed it. So discuss with her these fundamental approaches to sound planning:

1) Keep the total cost of food, clothing, and shelter to not more than 58 per cent of her husband's income.
2) Don't dash out to buy a car until the two of them have learned that they can stick to a budget.

will have saved for it and thereby not be putting his money into interest payments.

As for "fluffing off" some pocket money — allow for that as a necessary item, too. Just try to persuade him to "fluff" less. You can hardly argue that spending his money on a girl is more justifiable than eating it up. It will take some other girl to sell him on that idea!

Special Oath Administered To Gronouski

Promises to Give Treasury Any Funds Collected for U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—With his wife and children looking on, John A. Gronouski took what President Kennedy called "a much more binding oath than the rest of us" and was sworn in as Postmaster General Monday.

Supreme Court Justice Byron White administered the oath, which includes a promise to turn over to the Treasury any money Gronouski collects for the government. In that respect, it differs from the oaths that other Cabinet members take.

"We're very glad to have the new member of the Cabinet," Kennedy said after the ceremony, held in the Cabinet Room.

Then the President added with a smile that Gronouski's appointment has "caused a good deal of interest," more than any since the President named Anthony Celebrezze as Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

There has been talk that Gronouski's appointment was politically motivated by his Polish-American background.

Distinguished Career

Kennedy said the 43-year-old former Wisconsin tax commissioner has had a distinguished career of public service.

"I'm rather overwhelmed," Gronouski said in response. He said he hopes his cabinet service will be long and fruitful.

Gronouski's mother-in-law, Mrs. Eugene Metz, of Madison, Wis., appeared even more overwhelmed when Kennedy shook her hand.

Mother Present

"Mr. President, oh, how wonderful," she said. On hand for the ceremony were Gronouski's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gronouski Sr. of Two Rivers, Wis.; his wife, Mary Louise, and daughters Stacy, 10, and Julie, 7; his sisters, Rita, of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. Mary Bushey of Parsons, Kan., and his in-laws.

Kennedy brought another spectator, the prime minister of Libya, Muhiiddin Fekini.

"He was just visiting," Kennedy said in introducing the Libyan to Wisconsin congressmen and to Cabinet members.

Among the cabinet members were Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Also on hand were Wisconsin Gov. John Reynolds, former Gov. Vernon Thomson and Sen. Gaylord Nelson, also a former governor.

Gronouski is the second postmaster general in the Kennedy administration. The first, J. Edward Day, resigned Aug. 9 to return to the practice of law.

Tito, Bolivian Leader, Confer

COCHABAMBA, Bolivia (AP)—Presidents Tito of Yugoslavia and Victor Paz Estenssoro of Bolivia held a two-hour meeting Monday and then relaxed at a cafe on the Plaza de Armas, the main square of Cochabamba.

Strict security precautions surrounding the Yugoslav leader's visit were relaxed for the cafe visit and both leaders obviously enjoyed themselves.

Tito and his party are due to leave Thursday for Mexico, with a short stopover in Lima, Peru.

hurry to push for a solution of East-West problems because his government is preoccupied with internal difficulties and its dispute with Red China.

They said, however, that Gronouski might bring up with Home today, or with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Wednesday, the Soviet proposal for a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communists military bloc in Eastern Europe.

Gronouski didn't mention the Soviet idea in his first discussion here with Rusk and Home Saturday. He is to talk further with Rusk at dinner Wednesday night. Gronouski may also pursue the Soviet proposal for an exchange of observers to lessen fears of surprise attack.

Western sources anticipated that Gronouski would seek to link this with some other plan that has figured in previous East-West discussions. But until he spells it out, they said they could not know whether it might be acceptable to the West.

The three foreign ministers and the heads of their U.N. delegations dined at the U.N. Monday night as guests of Secretary-General U Thant. No announcement was made after the dinner.

The Western theory on the Soviet Union's diplomatic pause is that the Kremlin has not made up its mind how to shape its foreign policy pending developments in its row with Peking.

Adding to Moscow's concern, it is believed, is Red China's potential development of an atomic bomb. The Chinese are not expected to be able to develop an advanced, long-range delivery system for nuclear weapons for years but they could carry a bomb to nearby areas.

At home, the Soviets have economic troubles including crop failures.

Decision Due Today on Hike In Military Pay men would share in the increases, getting more money for drills and training duty.

Other provisions:

1. Most persons now receiving military retirement pay would get a 5 per cent cost-of-living increase.

2. Military doctors and dentists would get an increase of $50 at their sixth year of service and $100 at their 10th year.

3. The secretary of defense would have the authority to decide whether foreign duty pay should be continued for service people on duty in Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

It is the men in the lower enlisted ranks, many with a wife and several children, who have been drawing welfare payments and free surplus food or seeking outside employment in some parts of the nation.

Officials pointed out that eligibility for surplus food, the food stamp program and welfare grants is determined by the states and local communities. In most instances this information is kept confidential. But many of the lower ranking military personnel can qualify for such charity.

The new pay schedule provides an $8 monthly boost for the private from $112 to $120; an increase of $24 for the private first class with over 4 years service from $141 to $165; an increase of $35 monthly for a corporal with over six years service from $180 to $215; and an increase of $40 for a sergeant with 14 years service from $240 to $280.

All of them also receive $31 monthly for subsistence and from $55 to $105 monthly for quarters.

Even so, their annual incomes will range from about $2,400 to under $5,000 a year, unless they draw special hazard duty or other extra pay.

Early Senate Action Unlikely On Tax Slash

House Democratic leaders, talked with newsmen after their weekly breakfast session with President Kennedy.

Goldwater's Comment

There appeared to be a link between today's strong stand for pushing both tax and civil rights measures to enactment and a statement over the weekend by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a probable leader for the Republican presidential nomination next year, that Kennedy would choose between a tax cut and civil rights bill for enactment in this session.

Answering a question, Mansfield said he had received no indication when Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the Senate Finance Committee, would bring the House-passed tax bill before the committee for consideration. He said, however, that he would expect Byrd to start hearings shortly.

An administration nose count indicated it could not muster a majority within the 17-member committee to strip Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of control over the scheduling of hearings on the House-passed measure.

Although Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., had indicated previously he would move for such a showdown today and Byrd was braced for battle, Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said he did not believe any such challenge would materialize.

Path of U. S. Business Not Always Upward

But August Dip in Production Doesn't Predict Depression

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans are confronted again today with evidence that the course of industry and trade isn't perpetually and inevitably upward. Their tendency usually is to exaggerate the meaning of any such bobble just as it is to build hopes too high on any upward gains.

Industrial production dipped in August from July. Employment didn't advance as much as it usually does after the July slack period.

The big spurt in industrial output in the last seven months after a long spell of inaction had led many to forecast the same big gains over the rest of the year.

It will be easy to read too much into the August dip, just as it was to read too much into the previous seven months' figures. There are explanations for the dip that erase some of its significance, and for the previous rise which take away some of its glamor.

Text for Sermons

Those viewing the current economic upturn as aging and therefore ready for a downturn may take the August figures as a text for sermons on caution.

Most industrialists probably have already seasoned their views of continuing prosperity with a good helping of caution. If they haven't, the warning of the August figures that the lines of their charts can't always point upward may arouse a little caution, never such a bad thing as some hold.

The Federal Reserve Board reports its seasonally adjusted index of industrial production in August was 125.6 per cent of the 1957-59 average. In July it had been a record 126.5 per cent.

Both Types Advance

Actually, the production of both nondurable goods and business equipment advanced. The dip came in durable goods, mining and utilities.

In mining and durable goods the decline was caused mainly by a wider than usual shutdown in auto production for model changes and by a drop in steel activity which followed the announcement of a new labor contract.

Car production already is on the rise and is expected to go still higher, with the new models now making their bid for public approval.

Steel output also is increasing and new orders are coming in at a rate that guarantees at least moderate gains in the weeks ahead.

September and October are likely to tell a lot more about the health of, and the length of, the current upturn in the business cycle than did August.

Original Book Title Given to Movie With Star-Studded Cast

The title of "the Long Flight," panoramic Warner Bros. motion picture of the West has been changed to "Cheyenne Autumn," the original title of the Mari Sandoz book on which the film is based.

"Cheyenne Autumn" stars Carroll Baker, Spencer Tracy, James Stewart, Richard Widmark, Karl Malden, Sal Mineo, Delores del Rio, Ricardo Montalban, Gilbert Roland and Arthur Kennedy. Co-starred also as featured players are such well-known actors as Victor Jory, John Carradine, Elizabeth Allen and Patrick Wayne.

Miss Baker portrays a young Quaker school teacher in the movie. At first at an Oklahoma Indian reservation, she joins a band of Cheyennes in their flight to Yellowstone country, their native grounds from which they had been moved by the government.

Religious Exercises Dropped by N. J. School

HAWTHORNE, N. J. (AP) — Classes in Hawthorne's public schools open today without the religious exercises favored by the school board.

Superior Court Judge Morris Pashman Monday ordered the board to halt the reading of five Old Testament verses and recitation of the Lord's Prayer.

The board had continued the exercises in defiance of a U. S. Supreme Court ruling prohibiting required religious exercises in public schools.

Alexander Fasoli, school board attorney, said he would appeal Pashman's decision. The state attorney general's office brought the suit against the school board.
